Election Commission Predicts Field of 12 Mayoralty and at Least 50 Councilor Candidates—Mr. Corbett to Take Stump Tonight—Unusual Interest For Early Date

Predictions at the office of the board of election commissioners today were that there will be at least 50 candidates for councilor-at-large at the city elections this fall.

In the same breath it is predicted that the mayoralty field will contain an even dozen candidates, which number would constitute a record in local political history.

These prognostications are based on the fact that 15 candidates already have taken out nomination papers for council and nine for mayor, and primary election day is more than seven weeks distant. This early show of interest is taken to mean that the pres-

TENANTS FLEE EARLY MORNING FIRE IN CONGESTED TENEMENT DISTRICT

Blazing Sheds in Alley Off Moody Street Endanger Entire Neighborhood—Fire Spreads to Two Large Blocks, Driving 50 Occupants to Street at 1.45 A. M.

Fire in a group of unused sheds at the end of Feeney place off Moody street today spread with dangerous swiftness to two large tenement blocks on either side of the alley, driving more than 50 tenants to the street and menacing the entire neighborhood while the fire department strove to place it under control.

The dangerous aspect of the blaze was not wholly drowned out for half an hour. When the fire was discovered in the sheds at 1.45 a. m. it was burning fiercely and the first apparatus hardly had pulled into position in response to an alarm from box 123 when it spread into the attic of the three-story block, owned by the John Feeney heirs. It then jumped in the opposite direction and got a foothold in the eight-tenement block owned by Thomas N. Abodeley of 48 Varney street.

None of the tenants of either block was caught in the whirl of smoke, PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Clifton R. Hunn, wife of a wealthy Chicago business man, was killed last night by an ex-convict she once befriended, who, police said, smashed her head with a hammer, shot her through the heart, and looted her apartment of gems valued at $20,000.

Police today were seeking as Mrs. Hunn's slayer, Harry Connor, alias Harry Garbutt, who, according to detectives, was released from an Illinois prison through her influence after serving part of a sentence for robbery, and who was aided with her money to start life anew after leaving his cell.

Jack Daw's Adventures: Chapter 5

After the tiger was out of sight Jack filled his leather bucket at the spring. Flip stooped over and took a long drink and even the little pet monkey lapped up some water. Then, with the guide leading the way, Jack and Flip and Flop went back to the camp. He was still a bit frightened.

"Well, what's the matter with you?" asked the captain as he saw that Jack was a bit white. So Jack told him and the sailors of what had happened near the spring. "After this you'll have to be a bit more careful," advised the captain. Then the explorers all sat down to eat breakfast by the fire.

Jack noticed two long sticks stuck in the ground, with another long stick on them, which was stretched just above the camp fire blaze. On the long stick hung a piece of meat. "What kind of meat is that?" asked Jack. "Why that's bear meat," replied the friendly old captain. (Continued.)

Would Have Wished Another

Gov. Smith would have preferred to see somebody else assume the leadership in the democratic fight and has been puzzling for many days to find a way out of the difficulty that would leave him free to retire to private life and at the same time hold out some assurance to the party that its important fight in this state would not be futile. But from one end of the state to the other, the democratic organizations have clamorously called on him to run again and when national leaders, realizing that the fight for Davis must be won or lost in the east, joined in the clamor, and persons, friends, both in and out of politics, told him that further resistance would be out of the question, he agreed to enter the fight.

Last night, with the decision made and a hundred of his men, Gov. Smith joined in the gayeties that marked governor's day at the Mardi Gras celebration at Coney Island.

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO

So My Husband had to do the Work. Completely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

South Bend, Indiana.—"I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me at night. The doctors said I had female weakness, and there was no help but to be operated upon, and of course that would cost us a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the factory and one night he stopped at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. DORA OSBORNE, 430 Sherman Ave., South Bend, Indiana.

INDIAN TOBIES

SO UP THEY CLIMBED AND PULLED OFF A WHOLE BUNCH OF THE TOBIES.

Now when this story begins it isn't going to have anything to do with Nancy or Nick or Mister Smiley Snap. But before it ends it is going to have a great deal to say about them. Just you wait and see.

It's about Scamper and Scramble, Squirrel who were playing with their grandparents in Maple Tree Flats so they could go to Meadow Grove School and get an education, their own house being too far away to come such a distance every day.

One Friday after school Scamper and Scramble passed an Indian toby tree. There it was, hanging all over with long brown beans that looked for all the world like cigars or tobies.

"Let's get some," said Scamper.

"Let's," agreed Scramble.

So up they climbed and pulled off a whole bunch of the tobies and stuffed them into their pockets.

Then they slid down again.

"What'll you do?" asked Billy Bunny, hopping up.

"Tobies!" said the Squirrel boys.

"Really ones?"

"Guess not! What do you think, Granny would say if she caught us smoking? We should say not!"

"Let's smoke 'em anyway, just for fun," said Billy. "These old things can't hurt a flea. I've smoked corn silk lots of times."

"All right! Got any matches?" asked Scramble.

"None but I'll get some," said Billy. Billy ran into his house and got the matches and came back. He should have asked his mother, but he didn't, and that's where the trouble began. For little boys have no business with matches and his mother would have said "no."

But she was out in the garden, so he reached up on the kitchen mantel and got a handful.

When he got back there was a whole crowd there waiting for matches to smoke their Indian tobies. There were the three Woodchuck boys and Little Cottontail and just about everybody.

Well, the little rascals lighted their make-believe tobies and puffed at them, but they weren't so very good. After a little while they threw them away (it had been raining, I'm glad to say, or they might have got the woods on fire), and went on playing with something else and forgot all about their tobies.

But at supper time Mrs. Cracknuts began to sniffle and snuffle like everything.

"What's that?" she said severely.

"Yes, Granny," said Scamper and Scramble, knowing that something was coming.

"I smell smoke. Come here!"

Both of them slid out of their chairs and marched right over.

First she smelled Scamper's hands, then Scramble's (they hadn't washed before supper, I'm ashamed to say), and then she smelled their breath.

"Smoking!" she almost shrieked.

"But, Granny—" they began.

"But me no buts!" she cried. "I guess I've got a nose! Smoke is smoke and matches are matches. I smell both, and all the butts in the world cannot make me think any differently. Cigarettes, I'll be bound—or a pipe! Really, I feel like faint-

ANEMIA PRESENTS MANY SYMPTOMS

The Disease is Stealthy in Approach and Not Always Recognized

Anemia, or thin blood, affects every organ of the body because all depend upon the blood. It may therefore show in disordered digestion, weakened nerves, headaches and backaches. Symptoms that are particularly characteristic of anemia are pallor of the face and lips, a feeling of fatigue after slight exertion, such as walking up stairs, accompanied by palpitation of the heart. The symptoms appear very gradually but it is useful to recognize them early so that proper treatment may not be delayed.

"I was tired all the time and had pains all over me," says Mrs. James Miller, of No. 52 Hudson street, Providence, R. I. "I was nervous and slept badly. Indigestion troubled me and I had pains around my heart and in my chest. I was subject to severe headaches and dizzy spells, was weak and dreary and did not feel like doing anything."

"Nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took four boxes in all and gained greatly in strength. I sleep well, have no more indigestion, headaches or dizziness and my nerves are much stronger. I have been well since I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am glad to recommend them."

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing sixty cents and a box will be sent you postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

ing. To think that rascals of mine would—"

And she went on and went on and then ordered them to bed.

They had no chance that day to tell her it was only play smoke.

But things were going to be even worse.

MEETING OF THE BILLERICA GRANGE

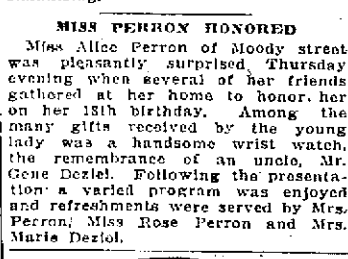

Worthy High Priest of Demetre Charles M. Gardner was a guest and principal speaker at a largely attended meeting of Billerica Grange, held Thursday evening in I.O.O.F. building, Billerica Center, the fraternal officer delivering an inspiring address enjoyed by all grange members present at the annual "Get-together" supper and entertainment. Miss Maude L. Gage, master of the grange, presided at the business meeting and exercises that followed.

The supper committee included John Pavey, chairman; Charlotte Pavey, Mrs. Maude L. Gage, Mrs. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. Lucy Symmes, Mrs. Clara, Miss Ruth Hollenberg, Arthur Hollenberg and Mr. Thayer. The menu included cold meats, salads and corn on the cob.

Mr. Gardner reviewed grange history, praised the Billerica organization as ideal and said the leading members who are employed in cities, are sensible enough to live in the country and establish homes there. He said new grange locals were being formed weekly in many sections of the country. All that is needed is "pep," zest, courage and cooperation," he said. The address was followed by the presentation of a motion picture, showing the manufacture of silk from the silkworm in Japan to the place of merchandising.

Miss Alice Perron of Moody street was pleasantly surprised, Thursday evening when several of her friends gathered at her home to honor her on her 15th birthday. Among the many gifts received by the young lady was a handsome wrist watch, the remembrance of an uncle, Mr. Gene Dezlet. Following the presentation a varied program was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Perron, Miss Rose Perron and Mrs. Marie Dezlet.

TO BEGIN DRAFTING OF ZONING CODE

The drafting of a zoning code will be begun at a meeting of the planning board with City Planner Arthur C. Conney next Wednesday afternoon in the mayor's reception room. A proposed code has already been drawn up outlining in a general way what it is hoped to include in the ordinance.

Under the code, large industries will be restricted to a certain district, noisy and obnoxious industries will be set apart in another district, and residential districts will be subdivided into sections where only one-family houses may be built, where the limit will be a two-family house, and so on.

The code, after being passed by the planning board, will be submitted to the city council and then must be voted upon at an election before it can become effective.

LOWELL MAN FINED IN METHUEN COURT

Vernon F. Herly of Middlesex street, this city, arrested yesterday by Motorcycle Officer Daniel Lynch and two Methuen officers, was fined $100 in Methuen district court for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. The police alleged that he was the driver of a car involved in an early morning accident on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in Methuen.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN TEXTILE CONDITIONS

A considerable weekly improvement is being registered in the total cotton receipts at the five principal New England mill centers, including Lowell. The improvement is noted over the August figures, when the number of bales of cotton received by mills in Lowell, Lawrence, Fall River, New Bedford and Manchester, was greater than the totals reported for the month of July. The latter month was about the worst ever in raw cotton-shipment receipts for textile storages.

Lowell mills received only 1820 bales of cotton during the month of August. Last year, for the same period, the receipts totaled 5016. The Sun is informed that since the first of September, the receipts of our lots of new cotton purchases at Lowell railroad transfer stations, have increased more than 600 per cent. That means, putting it bluntly, that up to Sept. 17, Lowell mills have received since the first of the month, more than 5000 bales of cotton.

This is not a large amount by any means, but it shows that even in the local textile mills, long resting upon their oars and "staying out" of the cotton-buying market, have begun purchasing in small lots at lower prices, current, this move being made, evidently, to meet new demands for textile goods. It is a well-known fact that few cotton storages, either in New Bedford or Lowell, are holding large stocks of raw cotton at the present time.

New Bedford Storage Warehouse Company, on Sept. 9, issued a two-column newspaper announcement, declaring that "somebody is going to sell a lot of cotton in New Bedford this month." The unused cotton in mills and warehouses has run very low. In the meantime, there has been a substantial accumulation of orders for quick delivery.

During the month of August, total receipts in five New England cities including Lowell, amounted to 21,243 bales, compared with only 12,606 bales sent to these same cities in July. Last year, in August, the five cities ordered 23,305 bales of cotton. Each of the mill centers except Manchester, show a gain during August over July, this year.

Total arrivals in Lowell last month were 1820 bales, compared with 1530 bales in July and 5016 bales during August a year ago. It is expected that the September receipts recording will show Lowell textile mills receiving considerably more than 5000 bales.

CERULE PAROISTALLE

The members of Cerule Paroistalle of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish met in regular session last evening with a large number attending. Several business matters were discussed and the members were addressed by speakers from the various French-American organizations of the city. A social hour followed the business session.

Is Your Back a Handicap?

Do You Suffer Constant Backache—Feel Old and Worn Out? Then Follow the Advice of These Lowell Folks.

Is a bad back keeping you upset and miserable? Every day bring lameness, stiffness and torturing twinges? Are you so tired, nervous and dispirited it seems you can never go well again?

Surely, then, you should be finding out what is wrong!

More than likely it's your kidneys. Your kidneys, you know, are constantly filtering impurities from the blood. But weak, sluggish kidneys slow up in their work, allowing poisons to accumulate until there's an upsetting of the whole system.

Then comes constant backache, sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. You feel tired, weak, nervous and depressed.

Don't let this unhappy condition go on! Help your sluggish kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Lowell folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

GIANT DIRIGIBLE ZR-3 MAY LAND IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Instructions to make provision at the Boston airport for a possible emergency landing of the giant dirigible ZR-3 soon to fly from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J., have been received by Captain Louis R. Knight, air service officer of the First Corps Area here.

While definite information as to the exact route the ZR-3 will follow on its trans-Atlantic flight has been withheld, military authorities here believe that the northerly course will be chosen. Officers said the orders to prepare landing facilities here were merely precautionary, the Boston airport being the nearest to the Atlantic coast and thus readily accessible should the dirigible require to make for a port of refuge.

The United States supply ship Patoka, which is equipped with a mooring mast, is still at the navy yard awaiting orders to proceed to her station along the line of flight of the ZR-3. The cruiser Milwaukee which will also take part in the naval patrol for the flight, sailed several days ago.

Tommie Martelle at the Opera House

MISS LESLIE RICE
Leading Lady of the Stanley James Players.

Tommie Martelle, the great female impersonator, will be the attraction all next week at the Lowell Opera House, the home of the spoken drama. Supporting Mr. Martelle will be the strong stock cast of the Stanley James players, including Gerald Rowan and Miss Leslie Rice. Mr. Martelle will give the great play, "The Fascinating Widow," originally written especially for Julian Eltinge. Martelle, regarded as the only rival to Eltinge, has made over 2000 appearances in this great show.

With a number of new gowns, the latest creations of the leading modistes of Paris and New York, Mr. Martelle is giving a striking performance. The songs have been changed and several new and unique dances added to the performance. In addition, members of the Stanley James players, now in their second week, will provide several specialty numbers.

The final performances of "Just Married" are being given this afternoon and evening. This show, the opening bill of the 1924-25 stock season, made a host of friends for the new company. The comfortable theatre, remodeled and redecorated with no sparing of expense proved a revelation to the thousands who visited it during the week and every indication pointed to Mr. James having a most successful season.

Tommie Martelle is in Manchester, N. H., this week, and will have special rehearsals tomorrow to acquaint the stock players with his bill. They have been studying their parts all week and are ready for the dress rehearsal that will mark the appearance of the versatile actor of whom it has been said "the best looking girl on the stage is a boy."

The advance seat sale for Martelle week has been tremendous although a few good seats are still available for the Monday matinee and succeeding performances. There will be a matinee every day except Friday. Every Martelle show is a sell-out for every performance. Mr. Martelle is highly popular in Lowell.

Seats are now on sale for "The Alarm Clock" which will follow "The Fascinating Widow." Ringing with laughter this great play is bound to make a great hit. The season subscription lists are rapidly filling up. Phone 7649 for reservations. Mail orders will be given prompt attention. The same popular scale of prices that prevailed last year is in vogue.

STATEMENT BY THE
GAS LIGHT COMPANY

The following statement relative to the reduction in gas rates is submitted by the Lowell Gas Light Company:

"It was very pleasing to us to have the public utility commission dismiss the petition of Representative Thomas J. Corbett and uphold the principle of the differential rate in the schedule as filed by the Lowell Gas Light Company."

"The commission, after public hearing and after investigation of the subject matter, recommended to the public utility commission that it adopt a new schedule of rates to be effective on October first next."

"Having in mind the desire of the mayor to lessen the charge to the small consumer, we agreed to act upon the recommendation of the commission."

Banner Picture Attractions at the Merrimack Sq. Theatre

BEBE DANIELS AND RICHARD DIX IN "UNGUARDED WOMEN" AT MERRIMACK SQ. THEATRE

The Merrimack Square theatre will include two of Paramount's "Famous Forty" pictures in its programs for the coming week, one of these noted special Paramount productions being included in the program for the first part of the week, beginning Sunday, and the second part, beginning Thursday.

The "Famous Forty" attraction for the first part of the week will be "Unguarded Women," adapted from "The Saturday Evening Post" story.

"Unguarded Women" concerns a young man who in a moment of physical cowardice on the battlefield causes the death of his comrade. Long after the war is over he is still haunted with bitter memories of his momentary weakness. In an effort to forget he goes to China, accompanied by his fiancée. It is in Peking that fate takes a hand in his affairs, for there he meets the widow of his friend who died that he might live. And then we see this high-minded, honorable man decide to make the supreme sacrifice by giving up his fiancée and all thought of happiness to devote his energies towards saving the widow whose utter disregard for the conventions has put her outside the pale of society.

It is a strange, tense, dramatic struggle that takes place there in the picturesque Orient, the heart-stirring conflict between love and duty. And if the startling climax, coming with the suddenness of a thunderstorm out of a clear sky, does not start the red blood in your veins coursing more rapidly, it is because you are too callous to be touched by human heroism and nobility.

What more need be said for the tip-top cast than that they seem to be living their roles instead of merely playing them? Richard Dix, Bebe Daniels, and Mary Astor, each give a marvelous performance; and the supporting staff which includes Walter McGrath, Harry Mestayer, Frank Losee and Joe King are more than adequate in their respective parts.

The entire production with its colorful background and lavish settings reflects great credit on Alan Crossland and his co-workers. Good motion pictures are so few and far between that when a screenplay like "Unguarded Women" comes along it behooves us not to miss it.

Mildred Harris plays the feminine lead in "By Divine Right," Elliott Dexter's first picture for Grand-Asher, which will be the second feature for the first part of the week.

This charming star has more than lived up to her reputation as an artist of rare ability, it is said, and the role she portrays in this picture is spoken of as the greatest of her career.

Anders Randall plays the part of an unscrupulous politician and reports indicate that he does some remarkable acting.

Grace Carlisle, for seven years a Broadway favorite in Frohman and other productions, portrays the wife of the politician and brings to the character much dignity and poise.

Sydney Bracey is a great crook type as Tug Wilson, and DeWitt C. Jennings has an effective part as a police detective. Little Jeanne Carpenter has a delightful role as the child of the politician and his wife and is the one factor that holds them together.

The story is concerned with a mission worker who is sent to prison for a crime of which he is guiltless and returns, after being reported dead, to right his own wrongs and bring happiness into an unhappy home.

There is a thrilling train wreck and a big fire scene in the picture together with a great deal of highly emotional drama and a strong love theme.

with even greater success on the screen. Among several big ones that this producer is offering for the season is "It Is The Law," which opens at Loew's Rialto Monday. This picture has a special significance to this city as Herbert Heyes, who has one of the leading roles, was at one time leading man with a local stock company and he was certainly a big favorite here.

"It Is The Law" earned its golden spots on Broadway last season as one of the most thrilling and interesting melodramatic hits of that year. It is a story of mystery, romance and intrigue. It was first published as a novel and gained such favor in that form that a well known New York theatrical producing firm commissioned no lesser playwright than Elmer Rice to turn it into a stage play.

Theatre-goers, who know their theatre, will recall that it was Rice who wrote "One Trial," another one of the most sensational and successful crook plays ever produced. That he did just as good a job with "It Is The Law" was evidenced during the first fortnight of the play's run. Metropolitan critics hailed it and record crowds attended and it continued to run and entertain thousands for more than six months.

"It Is The Law," then, summing it all up, is frankly a melodrama, but a big high-powered one with a theme based on one of those queer quirks of law: "Can a man be tried twice for the same crime?" The cast includes Herbert Heyes, Mimi Palmer, Arthur Hohl, Florence Dixon and De Sasia Moores.

The added feature on the bill is "Love Letters" starring the diminutive Shirley Mason. Here is a picture that will relieve the suspense of "It Is

millions now living will never die

The rapid changes of government among the nations seem only to check temporarily their steady approach to utter collapse. Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interest of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nations weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant; and hopelessness is followed by despair.

This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon, which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations, and federations, looms up threateningly.

Yet man need not entirely despair. This troublous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately preceding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

Fine Vaudeville Bill at Keith's

BISON CITY FOUR AT KEITH'S THEATRE

Cressey & Dayne will present their charming sketch of New England life at the B. F. Keith theatre Sunday afternoon and evening as a part of the special bill for that day. And with them will be Jean Lilian, the lighting sylphoid, and Lynn & Howland. Three new acts will be in the program, and the picture feature will be "Skin Deep."

"A Bouquet of Originalities" will be the coming week's headline feature, presented by Harry Downing and company. It is a modern mélange of song, dance and meter. Assisting Mr. Downing in this big feature are Earle Stanley, Eleanor Carpenter, Marion Jane and Jack Berry. It is a wholly attractive presentation and one in which contending plays a big part.

The Bison City Four have to include Lowell in their annual itinerary, and it is one of the best known vaudeville quartets in vaudeville. Year after year audiences clamor for more of the Bison City singers and comedians, and year after year back comes this quartet. The make-up of the quartet consists of Vic Nino, Frank Glavin, George Hughes and Ed Rogers.

The Griffin Twins seem to be a pair of Prince Charmings. Were they to stand framed before one, the impression would be that of a beautiful picture. As it is they open their act as a pair of Lord Fauntleroyes, and the impression gained by audiences is stunning. The boys are very remarkable dancers. Their work is clean cut, and it goes into fields hitherto untouched by many professional stagers.

James Mullen who once worked with Allan Coogan is now tied up in stage performances with Anna Francis, a thoroughly capable and charming young woman who works "straight" in the act. Mullen is a happy-go-lucky chap who simply causes audiences to "laugh their heads off," so to speak. The act is a prime comedy number.

Paganda happens to be a charming girl who plays the violin beautifully. In addition to her musical ability she has a charming personality.

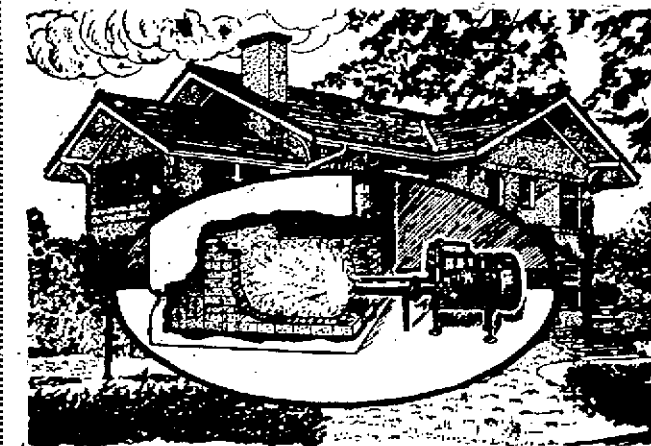

Hollinger and Reynolds will present a novelty wire act, which will be different in every particular from the usual routine of such presentations. They are aerial acrobats of the highest standing.

"Between Friends," a Vitaphone picture presented by a star cast of principals, ought to attract wide attention. Just one peek at the names enlisted to make the picture will convince the film goer of the quality of the performance. Lou Tellegen, Anna Q. Nilsson, Norman Kerry and Alice Calhoun.

In addition there will be presented Topics of the Day, Acrop's Fables and the Public News.

LAKEVIEW TONIGHT

There will be check dancing at the Lakeview ballroom tonight and as the weather continues ideal for dancing, no doubt hundreds will journey to the park to enjoy "stepping" to the poppy music by Broderick's Entertainers, one of the foremost ballroom musical organizations in New England. On cool evenings, if necessary, the Lakeview ballroom can be entirely enclosed, thus assuring the dancer real comfort. Next week there will be dancing on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

FALK'S GREAT HITTING RECALLS PREDICTION OF LATE FRANK CHANCE

White Sox Outfielder Runner-up to Babe Ruth—Walter Johnson Scores 22nd Victory of Season—Hornaby Continues Way Out in Front Among Nat. League Batters

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (By the Associated Press.)—Bil Falk, by his heavy hitting and great playing for the Chicago Americans, is fulfilling a prediction by the late Frank Chance a few days after the "peerless leader" had signed to manage the club.

"Keep that young fellow in the game regularly and he will not be long before you will find him hitting rings around all the rest of them," Chance declared.

Averages, including games of last Wednesday, show Falk trailing Babe Ruth for the batting honors of the American league with .367. Ruth tops the list with .384. The averages are of players who have participated in 100 or more games. Falk has participated in 27 games and cracked out 171 hits.

Walter Johnson, veteran pitcher of the Washington Senators, voted the most valuable player of the season to date, acquired another honor when he defeated Cleveland. He hung up his

A ball game of considerable importance has been arranged for picturesque Silesia park, North Chelmsford, tomorrow afternoon when the North Cambridge team, champions of the Boston Twilight league, will line up against the Silesia team at 3.15 o'clock.

The North Cambridge outfit is headed by the aggressive Dan Leahy, and is composed of some of the fastest college and former league players in this vicinity. Lowell players are very familiar with the Cantabs, for only recently they triumphed over the Abbots in a series to break the tie then existing for league leadership. After eliminating Abbot's the outfit defeated Lawrence in a series to decide the pennant.

Leahy's charges since have played Nashua and Gardner of the Central Twilight league, the organization of which Silesia was a member. The team is one of the best ever assembled in this vicinity and Manager Leahy will bring his strongest lineup to North Chelmsford tomorrow to meet the millmen.

Silesia will present its regular lineup with Wyckoff, former Athletic on the mound. With the road to North Chelmsford now in good condition the management has made arrangements to accommodate a large crowd.

PRACTICE SESSION BY O. M. I. CADETS

Manager Jack Collier announced this morning that a new captain will be elected to succeed Dan O'Connor, who has entered Dean Academy in Franklin. There are several veterans on the team who are candidates for the captaincy, and because of the importance of the position, the manager would like all members of the outfit to be present. The first game will be played in the near future.

the loyal support which they have given me. President developments indicate that in the coming election the republicans will win. The republicans have for economy, stability and common sense in government. The patriotism of the nation for present support has not been exceeded in many years. I know that we can depend on Massachusetts. I believe we can depend on the nation.

(Signed) "CALVIN COOLIDGE."

All indications in advance of the resolutions committee's report to the convention were that the platform would declare, without recorded dissent, in favor of the national convention which on the Ku Klux Klan, the committee having defeated a proposal to denounce it by name; that it would favor revision of the direct primary so that state candidates except governor and lieutenant governor would be nominated by convention and that this would be the only reference to the proposal that the party refuse to endorse State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, candidate for re-election and Washington Cook, his brother, candidate for the republicans in the second councilor district.

Possibility of Fight on Klan

There were possibilities of a fight on the floor on the Klan issue, which was introduced before the resolutions committee by a woman, Mrs. George W. Knowlton, Jr., of West Upton, but Mayor E. F. Leonard of Springfield who had said he would press the fight, was inclined today to stand by the platform as prepared. The resolutions committee had practically completed its work at midnight, when it adjourned until 9.30 a. m.

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in a letter to Chairman Foss, expressed regret at his inability to attend, saying he regarded President Coolidge "invaluable" as a candidate and called for every possible effort to gain for the republican party the seat now held by Senator David I. Walsh, a democrat. Senator Lodge said he hoped later to be able to take part in the campaign.

Of President Coolidge, the senator's letter said he should be assured "a majority in Massachusetts greater than any candidate has ever received."

When the convention was called to order by Chairman Frank H. Foss, of the state committee just before 11 a. m., the resolution committee had completed its reports, but voted not to make it public until it was actually presented as the party platform.

Overnight consideration was said to have developed no essential change.

In his speech as temporary chairman, Mr. Foss said "no state in recent years has been able to match the brilliant financial showing of the commonwealth under republican governors."

"In the White House sits a man of Massachusetts whose rugged honesty, inspiring character and determination to do the right thing regardless of political expediency, has won the ad-

Jack Dempsey's Classic Profile

JACK DEMPSEY

But yes, my good Gottlieb, you were right the first time. This is the real Mr. Dempsey. The picture, which was snapped while Gentleman Jack was watching the New York police games at the Jamaica (L. I.) race track, affords a very good view of the new Dempsey proboscis—sometimes vulgarly referred to as nose. Jack, you will remember, had his beak, which was somewhat shop-worn and distorted from careless contact with flying gloves, done over by a surgeon. And whether our champion had his nose altered to improve his beauty, or, as he contends, to facilitate his breathing, is of slight matter. Of more momentous consequence is the fact that Jack's hand-made beeper gives him a rather wicked profile, if you know what we mean, and Jack Barrymore and Rodolph Valentino had best look to their honors.

leadership of charming gentlemen who have compromised with Bryanism. . . . "The line of battle is drawn. There can be no division of forces. Those who are not for me are against me. The leader has already taken his stand on the battle line. He will not retreat. He does not know how to march except straight ahead. His life and character and service testify to his abiding faith in the American people and in American institutions. That sufficient leader in the preservation of American liberties is Calvin Coolidge."

Gov. Cox Delivers Keynote
A plea to patriotic men and women to "overstep party lines and put the good of their country above every other consideration" in the forthcoming election in order "to meet the threat which the La Follette program presents," was made by Gov. Channing Cox in his address as permanent chairman at the republican state convention here today.

"He is no dreamer of dreams," he said in referring to Senator La Follette, "no visionary dream with holy zeal, staking his all in belief of principle. He is a practical politician of masterly attainments in that field."

"No one knows better than he that there can be no possible combination of circumstances which would permit his election as president. . . . He knows his power to prevent the election of one other than his choice and so he has planned his next move."

Gov. Cox asserted that if the election should be thrown into the senator's hands, "and his cohorts of senators" would vote for the democratic nominee for vice president, Charles W. Bryan, as their choice for president, and added:

"There is the scheme to enthrone Bryanism in this country. Herein lies the danger in this campaign. The people must see the issue clearly. We must all subscribe to what his friends claim for him, that the democratic nominee for president is a 'gentleman of charming personality,' but we have yet to find any reasonable men in his party or elsewhere who have impressed us with their sincerity of belief that he is a genuine gentleman, has any chance of election. The situation must be understood by all and then they must act with full knowledge and accept the responsibility. In order that no good citizen may waste his vote, let him understand the truth."

"A vote for La Follette is a vote for Bryan; a vote for Davis is a vote for Bryan; a vote for Coolidge is a vote for Coolidge."

He said that the socialist leaders who were supporting La Follette were "united for the purpose of removing all constitutional restraint" and that "the La Follette would hamstring our courts which are the guardians of our liberties."

"The people of America," he continued, "are not willing to subject their inalienable rights to the determination of mob action. They do not want to repeat the recent experience of Russia."

A grave danger is a our doors. It must be understood and faced, not later, but now. Tear aside the curtain and we see the forces of discontent trying to batter down the barriers of our constitutional government. The issue of transcending importance in this campaign is communism or Americanism. . . . This is not the time to be trifling with the

Pirates Down Robins and Still Have Fighting Chance for Flag—Heinie Groh Injured as Giants Defeat Cubs—Tigers Rout Yankees

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—To accomplish the unperformed feat of winning four consecutive major league pennants, the Giants need only to win seven of their remaining eight contests even if either Brooklyn or Pittsburgh should capture all of their remaining games.

If the Giants win only six, the Pirates could win the pennant by a margin of one-half game by taking the could lose two of their series of three to McKechnie's team and still come home by capturing only five of the eight remaining on their schedule today.

If either Pittsburgh or Brooklyn makes double killing in the other, the losing team will be eliminated.

The Senators as yet have no such comforting margin. If Washington loses one game, the Yankees can tie for the lead by taking their remaining contests. Each has nine to play.

Events of yesterday, however, indicate a tendency on the part of the world champions to crack while Washington sailed gloriously through St. Louis under a 15 to 9 score. Sam Jones, with a five to three lead in the eighth, was set upon by the Cardinals. Per pinch hitters and driven from the box as the score was tied. In the ninth Joe Dugan threw wild and Hoyt, after passing two men purposely, permitted Haney's single for the winning run of a six to five victory. The Tigers, out of it, are making it as hard for the Yankees as they did for the Senators.

Neph twisted the Giants to an easy ten to four win over Chicago, while Pittsburgh downed Brooklyn in the first of the six games by the Yankees and Giants which afford the youthful westerners a fighting chance for the pennant. Yde came through with a 4 to 1 victory, largely due to the brilliancy of Cuyler and Wright.

The center fielder made three hits and stole three bases. Wright hit a home run and purloined four chances at shortstop. Each checked a Robin rally with a sensational play.

The Giant win cost the services of Heinie Groh, who was carried from the field in the eighth with an injured knee. The hurt, however, was not thought to be serious.

Cincinnati, 9 to 1, beat the Cardinals. Cleveland, using recruits in most positions, lost a 12-inning fray to the Red Sox, 5 to 3.

The American league game between Philadelphia and Chicago was postponed by rain.

ten yet on their schedule. The Robins, by capturing their seven left to play, would then tie New York.

A trick of the schedule which brings the three contending teams into competition in the final rush favors the Giants. If the Pirates and Robins each win one of their two games to be played today and tomorrow, the Giants

HAGEN AND BARNES, GOLF SEMI-FINALISTS IN OPEN VETERANS, IN BATTLE

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 20.—A battle of veterans was fought today on the French Lick championship course in the 36-hole final for the national professional golf championship. The winners were Walter Hagen and Jim Barnes of New York.

Hagen, present British open champion, has won nearly every open title in the world at least once since he came into fame in 1914 when he captured the national open.

Barnes, a native of England, won the national open crown three years ago.

Hagen reached the finals easily. He won his first match from Tom Harmon, 6 and 4, the second from Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, 4 and 3, the third from John Barlow, New York, 3 and 2, and the semi-final from Ray Deas, Philadelphia 8 and 7.

Barnes won his match yesterday from Larry Nabholz, Lima, O., one up. In the first round he was barred to the third extra hole by Mike Brady.

GAME OF SO. COMMON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The third and deciding game of the city championship series between the Belvideres of the City Twilight league and the C.M.A.C. of the Lowell Twilight league will be played on the South common tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Snubber Trask will perform in the box for the Belvideres, while Chick Tardiff will work for the C.M.A.C.

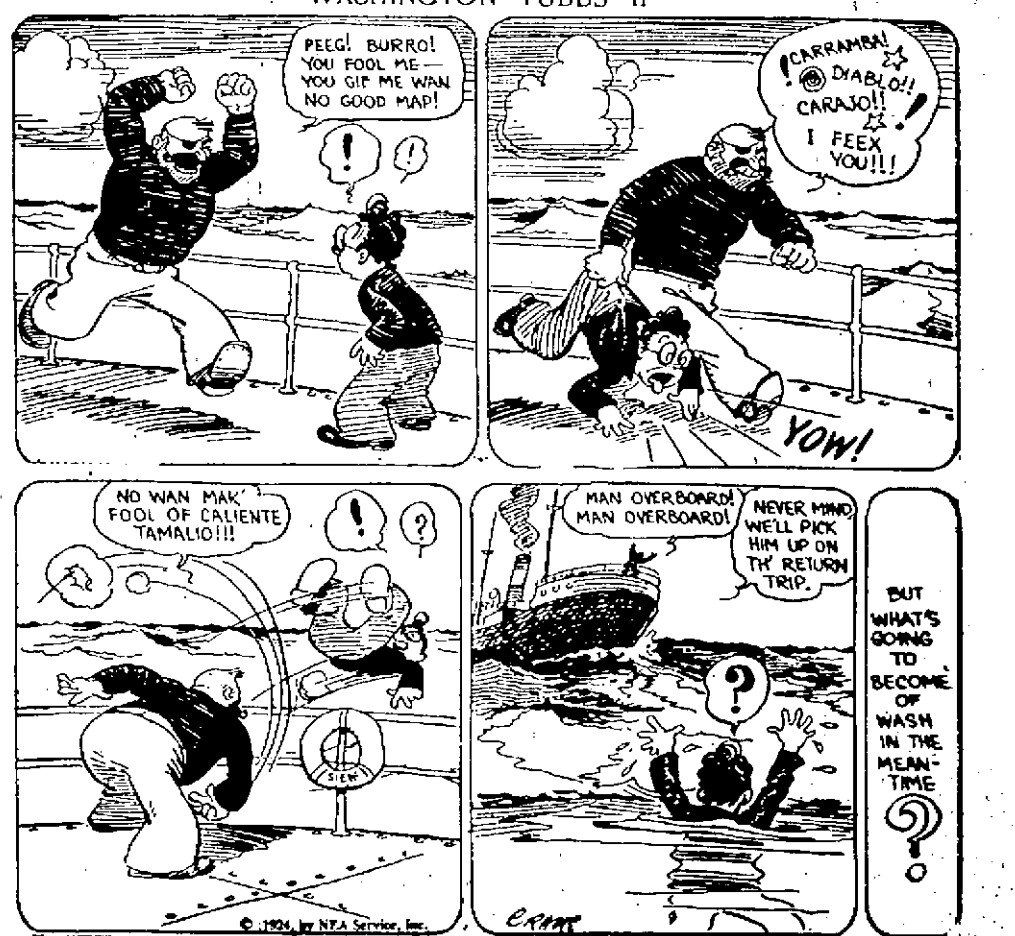

The series between these two teams is now tied at one victory apiece. The Lowell Twilight team won in the initial encounter at Alumni field by a 3 to 4 score, but the Belvideres came back strong in last week's argument and copied the verdict by the overwhelming count of 16 to 0.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

WALES TO LEAVE FOR HIS RANCH IN ALBERTA

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The Long Island visit of the Prince of Wales will come to an end tomorrow night when he will quit the scene of many dinners, dances and polo games to travel to his ranch at High River, Alberta, where he will spend a month looking over his lands.

The prince leaves polo behind him for more than a year, since he has sold his polo outfit and does not expect to get in any more practice until after he returns from South Africa next year hence. He planned to have a final view of the game today at Meadowbrook.

Final plans for the trip of the royal party from Syosset to Montreal and thence to Alberta will be completed today. It is expected that they will travel by yacht across Long Island sound and board a special train at New London, Conn.

FOOD EXHIBITS SENT TO HOSPITALS

Officers and members of Middlesex North Agricultural society have completed the pleasant task of distributing among local hospitals and other institutions, all food exhibits displayed at Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday last, during the annual county fair conducted by the society and with wonderful success.

Automobile trucks generously provided by the Lawrence Mfg. Co., Tremont & Suffolk mills, Thomas Curley and others, carried from the Auditorium vegetables, canned goods and other delectables displayed at the fair to such institutions as Ayer home, Old Ladies' home, Battles home, Salvation Army, Lowell Corporation hospital, Lowell General hospital, St. John's hospital, Mrs. O'Leary's home, French-American orphanage, Day Nursery, St. Peter's orphanage, State hospital and St. Paul's home. The committee on the fair is grateful to the trustees of the Auditorium for their hearty cooperation, to the local newspapers for excellent publicity efforts and the public at large for its splendid support, without which the annual exhibition could not have succeeded.

REGISTRATIONS IN CHELMSFORD SCHOOLS

Registrations of pupils in all Chelmsford public schools have reached a total of more than 1,300, the school committee announces. Work on the addition to East Chelmsford school has not been completed, but the school will open next Monday morning. Mrs. Katy D. Greenleaf will act as principal of the building, teaching grades six, seven and eight. Miss Ruth Ward of North Chelmsford will teach grades three, four and five, and Miss Grace Sheehan, grades one and two.

New desks have been placed in the Quessy school in West Chelmsford, a pupil enrollment this year having doubled. Princeton street school has taken some of the "overflow" of children that crowded the Highland avenue school in No. Chelmsford on fall opening day.

SEEK $100,000 ON TRIP OF 500,000 MILES

Remaining in Lowell over the weekend is a party of four automobile tourists who are racing against time in an effort to complete a 500,000 mile endurance run for a purse of $100,000. Miss Nell Leon is the pilot and her companions are her brother, Jack Leon, mechanic; Miss Jean Allen; official timer, and Miss Grace Hall, recording secretary. The trip is the result of a challenge made in the summer of 1916 by E. J. Anderson of Nome, Alaska. The trip was started Sept. 1, 1916, from Jamaica, L. I., and since then the racers have covered more than 420,000 miles, have twice encircled the globe and have crossed the American continent five times. The trip must be completed next year if the award is to be won. One stipulation of the wager was that the party must earn its own living along the way.

The travelers have had countless thrilling experiences and have passed through practically every country on the face of the globe. Overseas travel figures in tramp steamers or tankers. People of all races have been met, including kings and queens, Presidents Harding and Coolidge, General Pershing, Pancho Villa, Marshal Poch, Thomas A. Edison, and a host of others, equally as notable.

PROFITABLE MONTH FOR TROLLEY SYSTEM

August proved another profitable month for the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway, a net operating profit of $1933.37 being shown for the month by the company's figures. Gross revenue was $90,726.36. Operating expenses as figured at $82.06 and taxes at $350.42. A deduction of $22,423 is made from the balance and charged as six per cent interest on the cost of the property operated. Were it not for this item a net operating profit of over $1,000 a day would be shown for the Lowell division.

PLAN TO REVIVE C.Y.M.L. GLEE CLUB

Plans were laid for the revival of the old C.Y.M.L. Glee club at a meeting of the members of the C.Y.M.L. in the society hall last evening. John J. Molloy was chairman of the meeting and Henry McCullough served as secretary. Throughout the evening plans were projected and considered for the reviving of the organization that flourished six or seven years ago.

All former members of the glee club and others interested are asked to be present at the meeting to be held in the C.Y.M.L. hall next Monday evening.

LABOR LINING IN FAVOR OF ELECTING DAVIS AND BRYAN

"Reports from all over the country show that the rank and file of labor is lining up behind the candidates of John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan," I. M. Orsburn, director of the labor bureau, said at democratic headquarters today. "This is as true of the railroad groups, which have been claimed solidly for independent candidates as it is of other groups not identified with transportation, or the socialist party."

"This is the net result of Mr. Davis Labor Day speech which swept away any doubt that may have existed as to his position on the matters of vital importance to labor such as the abolition of the railroad labor board, and the use of injunctions to break strikes."

"The only elements in the movement which are not lining up behind the democratic ticket are those which in the past have been socialist, which even now are gathered in dual form, now support the candidates endorsed by the socialist party. This element, which has made trouble in many of the larger unions, is not any stronger in the labor movement than it has been all the years fighting it. It is too much to expect men who have had to fight for the lives of their organizations against the efforts of some of the most prominent of La Follette's supporters to line up with them now."

"The action of the New Jersey state Federation of Labor in refusing by a roll call vote of nearly three to one to accept the advice of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor is typical and is indicative of the real position of labor. It is as typical as the action of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union Convention in refusing by an almost unanimous vote to follow the lead of the executive council."

"In New Jersey you will note that the Federation laughed a Coolidge resolution out of court before it defeated the La Follette resolution."

PRE-WEDDING PARTY

The home of Miss Jeanne Poirier on the corner street was the scene of a pretty gathering last evening when Miss Helen Dragon was honored on the event of her coming marriage. She was presented numerous gifts, the presentation speech being made by Miss Helen Dragon, sister of the bride-to-be. A musical program was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Dragon, Miss Helen Dragon and Miss Mildred Dragon. Miss Helen Dragon, Miss Mildred Dragon, Miss Georgiana Clark, Miss Mildred Poirier, Mr. George Tessier and Mr. Henri Ledue were in charge of the affair.

LINE CLEAR NOW FOR RAILWAY BUSES

Chelmsford selectmen have decided to grant a license to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, to operate automobile passenger-carrying buses through the town of Chelmsford. When the corporation through its public trustees, petitioned for the necessary permit some time ago, considerable opposition was manifested in several sections of Chelmsford, and it was felt at that time that the town would never grant the street railway privileges desired.

Citizens have now been secured by the corporation in every city and town through which the new passenger-carrying service will operate, with the exception of the town of Arlington. The officials of that community will act on the matter next Monday evening.

Managers of East Chelmsford have been endeavoring for a long time to secure an extension of the street railway fare limit to that part of Chelmsford. The railway representatives present at the meeting of the Chelmsford board of selectmen last evening, stated that because of the financial condition of the company and industrial conditions in general, the extension of the fare limit as requested, could not be granted at this time.

Manager Maurice E. McCormick, of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway, Chelmsford, George W. Day and George Bugbee, and Fast J. Crowley, member of the board of public trustees of the street railway company, were present at the meeting that finally disposed of the petition for routing the proposed bus line through Chelmsford.

Arlington town officials grant permission for the operation of the new line through that section of the county, buses will be put into operation soon afterward. Full running schedules and other information of interest to patrons of the bus line, will be published soon. Manager McCormick said last evening.

WILL HAVE DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

Lowell Council Girl Scouts is to have a drum and bugle corps. This was decided at the regular meeting of the council held this week. Miss Mary Kelly who has carefully studied the advisability of having a drum corps in the local troop reported favorably and preparations are now under way to form a bugle and drum corps. This phase of scoutism has been met with much enthusiasm in other councils and has long been the aim of the local branch.

The officers' association will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock at camp "Wyndehille," Willowdale, where a supper cooked over an open fire will be enjoyed. Following the report a business meeting will be held. If the weather is stormy a meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock in Middlesex hall.

RADIO PROGRAM BY RUMANIAN SINGER

Radio station WEAF will broadcast next Thursday evening a program of bass selections by Rev. Octavian Mureson, Rumanian singer. The program is a "repeat" feature, Mr. Mureson having sung from this station before. His first concert was so well liked by broadcast listeners that hundreds of listeners wrote to the station management and asked for another concert by the celebrated singer.

WILL ADDRESS WOMEN'S CLUB
Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy will speak before the members of the Business and Professional Women's club at their regular meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock in Middlesex hall. Mr. Molloy's subject will be of general interest to the members and each member has the privilege to invite a friend. Andrew A. McCarthy, one of Lowell's favorite singers, will give numerous selections.

Three Democratic Governors

of the democratic party before the presidential campaign of 1928. La Follette is seeking to penetrate the democratic "solid South" in connection with his plans to get as many democratic votes as possible. The success of La Follette would menace the very life of the democratic party, in the view of some of its national leaders, and to make this issue the subject of increasing emphasis throughout the east.

According to tentative plans the democrats will send Governor Smith of New York, Governor Hiram Bingham of Maryland and Senator Underwood of Alabama into New England before the end of the campaign. Each is a good speaker and politician, and in making this issue the subject of increasing emphasis throughout the east.

Senator La Follette is something of a terror to both the old parties, whose spokesmen are making a particular appeal to eastern conservatives. The republicans say that Davis is out of it and that everybody who stands for the constitution must swing to Coolidge to prevent La Follette from being elected. The democrats argue that the only way to prevent a deadlock is to go to Davis inasmuch as Coolidge is certain to lose to La Follette a number of western states. Both the president and Davis have made it clear they do not agree with La Follette's theories about curbing the power of the United States supreme court. La Follette himself is keeping away from this issue and endeavoring to confine the issues of his campaign to drives against monopoly and special privileges.

There is evidently some concern over the possible effect of this issue in the La Follette camp as only recently Senator Wheeler of Montana, the La Follette candidate for vice president explained at New York that a change in the powers of the supreme court could be made only by an amendment to the federal constitution and that this would have to be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states before it could become effective thus allowing the voters, indirectly at least, to pass upon it. Senator Wheeler said that the La Follette forces would cheerfully accept the verdict should it be against them.

Claims of victory are being poured out upon a defenceless public every hour from the various political headquarters; but the plain truth today is that nobody knows just what will be the result in November. The La Follette candidacy has thrown everything into uncertainty and forecasts today are to say the least very unreliable. —RICHARDS.

TWO EXTRA BEDROOM BUNGALOW

Copyright, 1923—Architects' Small House Service Bureau.

Plan No. 5A59.

A feature of the five room Colonial bungalow illustrated here is the opportunity to provide two extra bedrooms on the second floor. If desired, dormers can be added to the front, thus furnishing cross ventilation for these bedrooms, or to light the storage space.

The house is of frame construction, with exterior finish of siding and shingle roof, concrete foundations and cement base course. The triple-arch Palladian motif entrance to the porch is unusual.

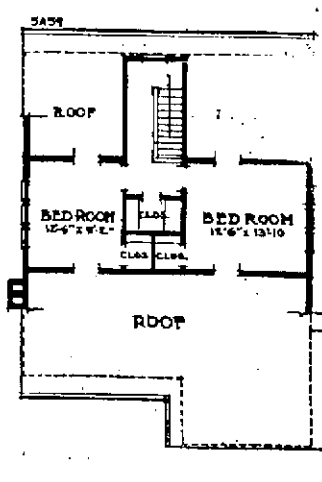

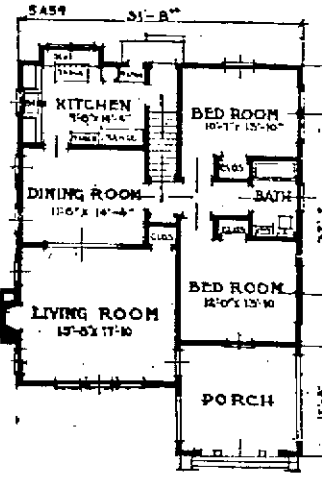

On the first floor there is a living room, dining room, kitchen, dining alcove, two bedrooms, bath, and porch. The number of closets is surprising—yet, there is no waste of essential space.

The house is designed to face south or east, and can be reversed for other facings.

A fireplace is a feature of the living room. An arched opening separates dining room from the living quarters.

The porch may be easily enclosed, if desired. It has a vaulted plaster ceiling.

The house can be placed on a 40-foot lot in most cities. It can be decreased in width if desired.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate and insurance reports the following sales negotiated during the past week.

On behalf of Dr. Francis R. Mahoney conveyance is effected of a high grade building site situated on the easterly side of Highland avenue. The lot has an area of 7248 sq. feet with a street frontage of 50 feet. It is level and excellently adapted to purposes of building. The grantee is M. A. Walsh who will erect on the premises a modern residence for personal occupancy.

In the Pawtucketville section, a sale has been negotiated of a lot of land situated directly at the junction of Crawford street and Sixth avenue. The lot has an area of 4500 sq. feet with an excellent street frontage on both streets. This was originally a portion of the so-called Emory estate and is conveyed to Ernest Tanguay and Laura Tanguay. Mr. Tanguay will erect on the premises some modern garages which he will hold for investment purposes.

Final papers have been passed through this office in the transfer of an excellent parcel of investment property comprising a nine apartment block at 15-21 Baxter street. The apartments have four rooms each. The land involved totals 6,000 sq. feet. The conveyance is made in behalf of Isadore Hymes. The grantee being Mrs. Emma F. Donnelly. Mrs. Donnelly plans extensive improvements to the property and will continue to hold it as in the past for purposes of investment.

The establishment of state parks is growing throughout the country. The losses caused by forest fires in North America are incalculable.

FIRE IN ASH BARREL.
Fire in an ash barrel at 230 Perry street resulted in an alarm from Box 819 at 7:13 last evening. The blaze was extinguished quickly and damage was slight.

A rent receipt is not much of an asset. It is the written permission of the landlord for the occupancy of a few square feet of floor space, for about thirty days,—after that it is valueless.

Why Not Build a Home and Be Your Own Landlord?

The interest on the investment, plus taxes and repairs, certainly would be less than the rent demanded for such a Home as you desire, or the landlord could not afford to invest his money in property to rent. On the other hand, the value of the feeling of ownership of a Home, a safe refuge for yourself and family, and a place to entertain your friends, cannot be estimated.

That no children were born from said marriage.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be decreed and that she be required to pay to your libellant such alimony as seems just and reasonable, and that she may be permitted to resume her maiden name of Armitia Boisclair.

IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Vacations are over and the crowd has returned to New York.

The day after Labor Day the influx became evident. It has increased each day until New York is her bustling, crowded self again, pushing and jamming for each inch of available space.

Broadway, deserted during the summer, is spick and span with the fall showing of new plays.

Cooler weather has arrived for a protracted visit and the new styles of the season are being displayed in the evening parade.

Over in Fifth Avenue, top coats, spats and gloves are seen on the men in the afternoon march and the women are sauntering along exhibiting the latest in tailored suits.

Fall is the most pleasant season in New York. The shackles of a torturing summer are thrown off and everything is made ready for the gay winter season, when New York is in its most entertaining mood. Plays are new, audiences are fresh, dancing mounts re-open with new decorations and lavish appointments.

Patrolman James O'Donnell failed to rescue a boy from drowning three months ago, and nearly lost his own life in the swim attempt, because he could not swim.

Yesterday a fellow officer tried to restrain him when he dived into the river in answer to a call for help. But he dived anyway and saved a drowning woman.

"Don't be so amazed," he chided fellow officers on the river bank, after he had made the rescue. "I've been taking swimming lessons."

All the straw hats haven't been placed in moth balls, despite the fashion decree that they be given a rest until next year.

And mischievous boys who like to break the hats of brave men who wear their grass tops after the dead line date will be more careful in the future.

For John Philby, 19, spent 4 days in jail for breaking a non-flexible Kelly.

Pres. Coolidge Sends Message

so effectively. . . . As governor of this commonwealth, it will be my purpose to serve all the people."

Gillett Slings Coolidge Issue

Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the national house of representatives, addressing the republican state convention today as nominee for the United States senate, devoted his speech to discussion of the candidates of Davis and LaFollette as opponents of President Coolidge.

"So well known and so forceful are his (Coolidge's) character and ability and political philosophy that he has become the chief political issue and the people everywhere are turning to him as the inspiration of their political faith and action," he said.

He asserted that LaFollette's recent arguments of "sympathy with the great mass of the people while his own were so inaccurate as to be grotesque." Speaker Gillett added that Mr. Davis is "merely the attorney for the democratic party, and his nomination for the presidency was his retelling fee."

The speaker said he did not believe the speeches Governor Bryan Nebraska made in the West would help the democratic cause in Massachusetts, referring especially to "his threat of a lower tariff."

"A protective tariff cannot always insure prosperity, but democratic lawless can always insure disaster. The present tariff has so completely contradicted democratic prophecies that I should not think they would like to discuss it. It has produced more revenue than any predecessor, and at the same time not only exports have increased, but imports also. What more would the democratic party ask unless to close some more New England mills?"

Reverting to Senator LaFollette, the speaker said he did not believe this generation wanted government ownership of railroads, and added: "His attack on the supreme court may be more dangerous, for it may attract many well intentioned citizens, particularly of foreign birth, who have looked on the courts at home as the instruments and creatures of arbitrary government."

Speaker Gillett said this country today was "the happiest, most prosperous people on the globe" and that there never was such freedom, such luxury, such opportunity for remunerative labor as now."

Republican Platform

The republican platform in Massachusetts as for the whole country is: "Calvin Coolidge."

"The combination of the vigorous Vermont stock with the educational opportunities of Massachusetts produced in turn: a lawyer, a legislator, a mayor, a state senator, a lieutenant-governor, a governor, a vice-president, a president, but pre-eminently a man equaled to every task committed to him. He assumed the office of president at a solitary unannounced and unembarrassed by pledges or promises of any kind to any person, group or organization except his conscience and his God. When his name has been spoken the republican faith of the country has been proclaimed. His principles, his policies and his conduct in office are our platform. The republicans of Massachusetts confirm their belief in him and in the principles stated in the platform adopted at the republican national convention. They also heartily endorse for vice-president, Charles G. Dawes who has contributed so substantially to world peace."

"The state platform consists in the endorsement of the able and business-like administration of Governor Channing H. Cox and in the pledge to the people that the candidate for governor, Alvan T. Fuller, and for lieutenant-governor, Frank G. Allen, will continue the policies of economy, sound finance and humanitarian progress. They will strive for the further reduction in taxation and the state debt, keeping in mind the maintenance of the state service at a high degree of efficiency and with due regard to future requirements."

"When questions are submitted by referendum to the people they are removed from partisan controversy and become the consideration of the individual who is urged to give them careful study. Questions on the ballot are therefore omitted from the party platform."

"We particularly reaffirm the planks of the national platform upon agriculture and labor."

"We approve the new immigrant law."

TWO JUDGES BUSY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

A large number of continued cases in district court this morning crowded the docket and made it necessary for Judge Bright to call in Associate Judge Fisher to sit in second session. Due to the fact that lawyers are for the most part busy on other days of the week in superior court a large number of cases were set for today to meet their convenience.

William Cudworth charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance and John Thomas for illegal keeping, were each fined $100 by Judge Fisher after Capt. Palmer, Sergt. Winn and detectives of the vice and liquor squad testified at length as to conditions at defendant's place in Fayette street.

The first case before Judge Bright was that of Thomas P. McCarthy, a laborer, of 188 Appleton street, charged with fourth offense of drunkenness. A previous suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction was ordered served.

William S. Smith of Lebanon, N. H., pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, and was continued in $400 for one week.

May Change His Mind

Theodore Granokos, 1 Bent's court, arrested in Woburn on a warrant charging non-support, told the court he didn't feel that he could do anything in the way of providing for his wife and family as the $22 a week he makes is not enough for himself. He will have the chance to revise his figures and make up a new budget during the next five months while he is sojourning at the house of correction.

Paul C. Roark, arrested by Motorcycle Officer Adams of Chelmsford and charged with carrying a pistol without proper permission secured a continuance of one week.

Alfary Brou was adjudged guilty of receiving stolen property and appealed a $16 fine. He admitted selling as junk property identified as brass sawed from brake handles on trolleys of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Corporation. He said he bought the stuff as junk from boys and did not know it was stolen.

Not Licensed Dealer

Bacon is not a licensed junk dealer. He makes his living as an interpreter between the courts and for lawyers. He lives at 711 Lakeview avenue. He told of selling the junk, about 23 pounds in all, to a licensed junk dealer for about sixty cents profit. He denied knowing the goods were stolen or suspecting they might be stolen. Calling the man's attention to the fact that the statute called for a maximum penalty of five years in prison or $300 fine the judge assessed the $15 fine which was appealed. Fisher H. Pearson was attorney for the defendant.

except wherein its provisions are discriminatory.

"Now, as always we stand for the enforcement of all laws."

"The policy of national preparedness, and the interest of the state and nation in the welfare of our veterans, particularly those of the World war will be continued."

"We affirm our adherence to the merits system in public employment."

"We urge that congress enact as speedily as possible the Dyer anti-lynching bill."

"We deplore any organized effort to create racial or religious prejudices."

"We advocate either a revision of the direct primary law for the purpose of removing its recognized defects, or taking steps toward the adoption of the short ballot. We favor biennial sessions of the general court."

"The voters of Massachusetts can assist in writing the national platform into law by electing Speaker Frederick H. Gillett United States senator and by electing members of congress with the president. They can adopt the state platform by the election of the nominees for state office."

"We hail as the next governor: 'Alvan T. Fuller.'

"And as the next president, 'Calvin Coolidge.'

Both the emerald and the ruby, if flawless, exceed the diamond in value."

City Campaign Gets Flying Start

plan there were 62 councillor candidates and in 1922 when the special form was given up and Plan B put into effect, the number was 44. The 1922 total will be exceeded and the 1923 total approximated, elections officials believe.

32 Candidates Now in Ring

At the close of business at city hall this noon, nine candidates for mayor, 18 candidates for councillor-at-large and five candidates for school committee had taken out nomination papers. The present mayor has taken out papers for re-nomination, but neither Thomas R. Dolan nor James H. Riley, present school committeemen whose terms of office expire this year, nor any one of the six councillors-at-large now serving have entered the lists as yet. As far as is known, however, no councillor now serving, has stated he will not be a candidate for re-election.

In all 32 sets of nomination papers have been taken out, but only four councillor candidates have filed with a necessary number of signatures. The last day for filing is 10 days before the primaries, which come on Tuesday, November 11.

In a mayoralty year only two school committee members are elected, but because of the death this year of Franklin Johnson, a third person must be chosen to fill out the two years of his unexpired term. Donald M. Cameron, at present serving in Mr. Johnson's place as result of a special election by the school committee and city council, sitting in joint convention, was elected only for the balance of the present year. He will not be a candidate this year, he says.

Of the five school board candidates already in the fight, only one has signified an intention of seeking a two-year term, which would be the unexpired service of Mr. Johnson.

Two new councillor candidates appeared today, David B. Kinghorn, 32 West Meadow road, assistant to the Massachusetts income tax director, and for six years on the secretarial staff at the state house under Governors McCall, Coolidge and Cox, and Frank J. Kane, 483 Broadway, listed as a laborer.

More Mayoralty Aspirants Expected

The present lineup of nine mayoralty candidates does not represent a complete list, it is believed. Several men, who have been prominently mentioned as candidates, have yet to make public announcements to that effect and CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press) Sixty deaths and the destruction of three villages are given as the toll of a new earthquake reported in the Erzerum district of Armenia. Large cracks appeared in the ground from which subterranean noises were heard.

U. S. FLIERS FACE LAST DIFFICULT JUMP

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press) The army around-the-world fliers today face the last difficult jump between them and their goal, a 645 mile hop to El Paso, Texas.

The fliers planned to follow the Texas and Pacific railroad, both for the assistance in pointing the route west and because they were told habitations in west Texas followed the railway.

The fliers arrived at Love field yesterday at 4:24 p. m. Central standard time, after a 225-mile hop from Muskogee, Okla., in three hours and 54 minutes. The slow speed was caused by strong head winds.

From El Paso the fliers plan to cross New Mexico and land in Tucson, Ariz., and then jump to San Diego, Calif.

From there, they intend to fly to Los Angeles, then to San Francisco, thence to Eugene, Ore., and on to Seattle.

Off for El Paso

LOVE FIELD, Dallas, Tex., Sept. 20. (By the Associated Press)—With Lieut. David L. Smith, who commands in the land, following the Chicago, the army world fliers took off from Love field, Dallas at 9:40 a. m. for El Paso, 645 miles away.

The fliers will follow the right of way of the Texas and Pacific railroad. They headed west into a strong head wind which Lieut. Smith declared would materially lessen their speed, reducing it to approximately 55 miles an hour.

Thompson, mayor for four years and Frank Warnock, alderman under the commission form of government, who are both of the present councilors have been quoted as aspirants. Police Have Clue to Second Man because of his gameness and ruggedness Peabody will pull through.

Detective Captain Pettie said today that the evidence against Souza is continuing to pile up satisfactorily. Although Souza will not talk, the police have fastened a strong suspicion on a local man as his accomplice. A chain of evidence is being forged which links the two men together throughout the night preceding the early morning attempt to hold up the prosperous milkman. The man hunt is on for the suspect and eventually the police net spread for the alleged accomplice is expected to ensnare him. Arrest is not a matter of hours but rather of days in the opinion of the police who are satisfied that they have a complete case against the pair and want now only to take the alleged accomplice into custody.

Souza is confined at East Cambridge. Because of the high bail set regarding friends of Souza as prohibitive, there is little likelihood of his being freed before his case goes to the grand jury. The police have no doubt but an indictment will be returned, as far as is known, a serious attempt to raise bail for the accused or to move for a lowering of the surety have been made.

The police investigation has practically ceased. The main object now is the arrest of the alleged accomplice. Every confidence is felt that Peabody

Wiscasset, Maine, Plans Elaborate Welcome for Returning Explorer

WISCASSET, Me., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Returning from his 15 months' expedition to northern Greenland, Captain Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, and his six companions will set foot on the mainland of the United States today for the first time since he left this port a year ago last June.

Leaving Monhegan Island in the open ocean where he passed the night after his arrival at nightfall, Captain MacMillan planned to bring his auxiliary schooner Bowdoin across the 13-mile stretch to the entrance of the Sheepscot river this forenoon. Escort by a large number of boats the Bowdoin will proceed up the river a distance of some 13 miles to Wiscasset.

This port, which MacMillan has made his bay for arrival and departure in two of his eight expeditions into the Arctic, has planned an elaborate welcome for the returning explorer and his party.

MacMillan planned to reach Wiscasset at exactly 1 o'clock eastern standard time. Hundreds of persons will be gathered to greet the schooner when she arrives, escorted by the fleet of welcoming craft. Then the community will give its welcome to the scientist and the members of his party returning from far beyond the Arctic circle waters that have been engaged in exploration and scientific work.

The address of welcome on behalf of the state will be delivered by Augustus O. Thomas, state commissioner of education, in place of Governor Percival P. Baxter who was unable to be present.

A short parade, in which the Bowdoin college professor will be escorted by a number of Bowdoin graduates, will link the party to the common where the formal exercises will be held.

The welcome of Bowdoin college and her alumni will be extended by Austin H. McCormick, alumni secretary, as well as the welcome in behalf of Wiscasset.

Hiram Maxim of Hartford, Conn., president of the American Radio Relay league, will speak in behalf of the amateur radio operators through whom MacMillan has kept in touch with the world.

"Starvation Camp"

WISCASSET, Me., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Bolted to a large boulder more than 800 miles north of Arctic circle and only 11 1/2 degrees from the north pole is a bronze tablet set in place by the members of the MacMillan Arctic expedition who returned here today after 15 months in the far north. The tablet marks the site of "starvation camp" where, in 1914, eighteen members of the party of 25 men who penetrated to this point on the Greely expedition, perished.

The tablet was sent into the far north with Captain Donald B. MacMillan, when he set out from here a year ago last June, by the National Geographic Society. Today, Captain MacMillan reported to the society that he had performed his mission, having crossed with other members of his party the thin ice of Smith Sound on sledges in his appointed task.

The inscription on the tablet reads: "To the memory of the dead who, under Lieutenant A. W. Greely here, gave their lives to insure the final and complete success of the first scientific cooperation of the United States with other nations, 1881-1914."

One of the most northerly monuments in the world, the tablet stands 78 degrees, 45 minutes north latitude on Cape Sabine in Ellesmere Land. It is placed in the north end of the island in conjunction with other members of a chain of 19 circum-Polar stations, the Greely party traveled farther north than any previous expedition had penetrated. Discovering new land north of Greenland, and then forced to retreat when two relief expeditions failed to reach them, the party pitched camp at Cape Sabine.

When relief finally arrived but seven men were still alive and of these only 2 or 3 could move, from their sleeping bags. Yet records which added greatly to the world's geographic, meteorological and magnetic knowledge had been carefully kept through many weeks until only forty hours before the rescue party arrived.

It had been hoped that General Greeley, now the oldest of Arctic explorers would be present to welcome the returning MacMillan. He had come on this port 15 months ago to bid MacMillan goodbye, but it was feared he might not be able to greet him today.

Travelers on the trains of one French railway are to be notified of the approach of the next stop by loud speakers.

After the tiger was out of sight Jack filled his leather bucket at the spring. Flip stooped over and took a long drink and even the little pet monkey lapped up some water. Then, with the guide leading the way, Jack and Flip and Plop went back to the camp. He was still a bit frightened.

"Well, what's the matter with you?" asked the captain as he saw that Jack was a bit white. So Jack told him and the sailors of what had happened near the spring. "After this you'll have to be a bit more careful," advised the captain. Then the explorers all sat down to eat breakfast by the fire.

Jack noticed two long sticks stuck in the ground, with another long stick on them, which was stretched just above the camp fire blaze. On the long stick hung a piece of meat. "What kind of meat is that?" asked Jack. "Why that's bear meat," replied the friendly old captain. (Continued.)

Gov. Smith would have preferred to see somebody else assume the leadership in the democratic fight and has been puzzling for many days to find a way out of the difficulty that would leave him free to retire to private life and at the same time hold out some assurance to the party that its important fight in this state would not be futile. But from one end of the state to the other, the democratic organization have clamorously called on him to run again and when national leaders, realizing that the fight for Davis must be won or lost in the east, joined in the clamor, and personal friends, both in and out of politics, told him that further resistance would be out of the question, he agreed to enter the fight.

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO

South Bend, Indiana.—"I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me at night. The doctor said I had female weakness, and there was no help to be operated upon, and of course that would cost a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the factory and one night he stopped at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. DORA OSBORNE, 430 Sherman Ave., South Bend, Indiana.

SO UP THEY CLIMBED AND PULLED OFF A WHOLE BUNCH OF THE TOBIES.

Now when this story begins it isn't going to have anything to do with Nancy or Nick or Mister Slop Soap. But before it ends it is going to have a great deal to say about them. Just you wait and see.

It's about Scramble and Scramble Squirrel who were trying with their grandparents in Maple Tree Flats so they could go to Meadow Grove School and get an education, their own house being too far away to come such a distance every day.

One Friday after school Scramble and Scramble passed an Indian tree. There it was, hanging all over with long brown beans that looked for all the world like cigars or tobies.

"Let's get some," said Scramble.

"Let's," agreed Scramble.

So up they climbed and pulled off a whole bunch of the tobies and stuffed them into their pockets.

Then they slid down again.

"Whatta you got?" asked Billy Bunny, hopping up.

"Tobies!" said the Squirrel boys.

"Really ones?"

"Goodness no! What do you think Grammy would say if she caught us smoking? We should say not!"

"Let's smoke 'em anyway, just for fun," said Billy. "These old things can't hurt a flea. I've smoked corn silk lots of times."

"All right! Got any matches?" asked Scramble.

"None but I'll get some," said Billy. Billy ran into his house and got the matches and came back. "He should have asked his mother, but he didn't, and that's where the trouble began. For little boys have no business with matches and his mother would have said 'no'."

But she was out in the garden, so he reached up on the kitchen mantel and got a handful.

When he got back there was a whole covey there waiting for matches to smoke their Indian tobies. There were the three Woodchuck boys and Cuddie Cottontail and just about everybody.

Well, the little rascals lighted their make-believe tobies and puffed at them, but they weren't so very good. After a little while they threw them away (it had been raining, I'm glad to say, or they might have set the woods on fire), and went on playing with something else and forgot all about their tobies.

But at supper time Mrs. Cracknuts began to sniffle and snuffle like everything.

"Boys!" she said severely.

"Yes, Grammy," said Scramble and Scramble, knowing that something was coming.

"I smell smoke! Come here!"

Both of them slid out of their chairs and marched right over.

First she smelled Scramble's hands, then Scramble's (they hadn't washed before supper, I'm ashamed to say) and then she smelled their breath.

"Smoking!" she almost shrieked.

"But, Grammy—" they began.

"But me no buts!" she cried. "I guess I've got a nose! Smoke!"

Smoke and matches are matches. I smoke both, and all the butts in the world cannot make me think any differently. Cigarettes, I'll be bound, or a pipe! Really, I feel like faint-

ANEMIA PRESENTS MANY SYMPTOMS

The Disease Is Stealthy In Approach and Not Always Recognized

Anemia, or thin blood, affects every organ of the body because all depend upon the blood. It may therefore show in disordered digestion, weakened nerves, headaches and backaches. Symptoms that are particularly characteristic of anemia are pallor of the face and lips, a feeling of fatigue after slight exertion, such as walking up stairs, accompanied by palpitation of the heart. The symptoms appear very gradually but it is useful to recognize them early so that proper treatment may not be delayed.

"I was tired all the time and had pains all over me," says Mrs. James Miner, of No. 89 Hudson street, Providence, R. I. "I was nervous and slept badly. Indigestion troubled me and I had pains around my heart and in my chest. I was subject to severe headaches and dizzy spells, was weak and nervous and did not feel like doing anything."

"Nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took four boxes in all and gained greatly in strength. I sleep well, have no more indigestion, headaches or dizziness and my nerves are much stronger. I have been well since I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am glad to recommend them."

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing sixty cents and a box will be sent you, postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," will explain the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

And she went on and went on and then ordered them to bust.

They had no chance that day to tell her it was only play smoke. But things were going to be even worse.

MEETING OF THE BILLERICA GRANGE

Worthy High Priest of Demetria Charles M. Gardner was a guest and principal speaker at a largely-attended meeting of the Billerica Grange, held Thursday evening in T.O.O.F. building, Billerica Center, the fraternal officer delivering an inspiring address enjoyed by all grange members present at the annual "Get-Together" supper and entertainment. Miss Maude L. Gage, master of the grange, presided at the business meeting and exercises that followed.

The supper committee included John Pavey, chairman; Charlotte Pavey, Mrs. Maude L. Gage, Mrs. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. Lucy Symmes, Mrs. Cherry, Miss Ruth Hollingsworth, Arthur Hollingsworth and Mr. Thayer. The menu included cold meats, salads and corn on the cob.

Mr. Gardner reviewed grange history, praised the Billerica organization as ideal and said the leading members who are employed in offices, are sensible enough to live in the country and establish homes there. He said new grange locals were being formed weekly in many sections of the country. All that is needed is "guts," zeal, courage and cooperation," he said. The address was followed by the presentation of a motion picture, showing the manufacture of silk hosiery through all its processes from the silk worm in Japan to the place of merchandising.

MISS PERRON HONORED

Miss Alice Perron of Moody street was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when several of her friends gathered at her home to honor her on her 18th birthday. Among the many gifts received by the young lady was a handsome wrist watch, the remembrance of an uncle, Mr. Gene Deziet. Following the presentation a varied program was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Perron, Miss Rose Perron and Mrs. Marie Deziet.

PAINT FACTS WITHOUT FRILLS

Everything said in Coburn's advertising is the plain, conservative, unvarnished truth.

Property painted outside with U. S. N. DECK PAINT will remain fresh and well groomed in any climate. After thirty years of salt-sea drenching on ships under tropic suns and Arctic blasts, any home exposure is mild by comparison and U. S. N. Deck Paint lasts a long, long time.

For porch and interior floors this paint stands hard wear under-foot. It dries hard overnight and always washes up bright and clean.

TO BEGIN DRAFTING OF ZONING CODE

The drafting of a zoning code will be begun at a meeting of the planning board with City Planner Arthur C. Conney next Wednesday afternoon in the mayor's reception room. A proposed code has already been drawn up outlining in a general way what it is hoped to include in the ordinance.

Under the code, large industries will be restricted to a certain district, noisy and obnoxious industries will be set apart in another district, and residential districts will be subdivided into sections where only one-family houses may be built, where the limit will be a two-family house, and so on.

The code, after being passed by the planning board, will be submitted to the city council and then must be voted upon at an election before it can become effective.

LOWELL MAN FINED IN METHUEN COURT

Vernon E. Herley of Middlesex street, this city, arrested yesterday by Motorcycle Officer Daniel Lynch and two Methuen officers, was fined $100 in Methuen district court for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. The police alleged that he was the driver of a car involved in an early morning accident on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard in Methuen.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN TEXTILE CONDITIONS

A considerable weekly improvement is being registered in the total cotton receipts at the five principal New England mill centers, including Lowell. The improvement is noted over the August figures, when the number of bales of cotton received by mills in Lowell, Lawrence, Fall River, New Bedford and Manchester, was greater than the totals reported for the month of July. The latter month was about the "worst ever" in raw cotton shipment receipts for textile storages.

Lowell mills received only 1820 bales of cotton during the month of August. Last year during the same period, the receipts totaled 5018. The Sun is informed that since the first of September, the receipts of car lots of new cotton purchases at Lowell railroad transfer stations, have increased more than 500 per cent. That means, putting it bluntly, that up to Sept. 17, Lowell mills have received since the first of the month, more than 6000 bales of cotton.

This is not a large amount by any means, but it shows that some of the local textile mills, long resting upon their oars and "sitting out" of the cotton-buying market, have begun purchasing in small lots at local prices current, this move being made, evidently, to meet new demands for textile goods. It is a well-known fact that few cotton storages, either in New Bedford or Lowell, are holding large stocks of raw cotton at the present time.

New Bedford Storage Warehouse Company, on Sept. 3, issued a two-column newspaper announcement, declaring that "somebody is going to sell a lot of cotton in New Bedford this month." The unused cotton in mills and warehouses has run very low. In the meantime, there has been a substantial accumulation of orders for quick delivery.

During the month of August, total receipts in five New England cities including Lowell, amounted to 21,243 bales, compared with only 13,608 bales sent to these same cities in July. Last year, in August, the five cities ordered 23,369 bales of cotton. Each of the mill centers except Manchester, show a gain during August over July, this year.

Total arrivals in Lowell last month were 1820 bales, compared with 1589 bales in July and 5018 bales during August a year ago. It is expected that the September receipts, recording will show Lowell textile mills receiving considerably more than 6000 bales.

CERLE PAROISSIALE

The members of Cerle Paroissiale of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish met in regular session last evening with a large number attending. Several business matters were discussed and the members were addressed by speakers from the various French-American organizations of the city. A social hour followed the business session.

Is Your Back a Handicap?

Do You Suffer Constant Backache—Feel Old and Worn Out? Then Follow the Advice of These Lowell Folks.

Is a bad back keeping you upset and miserable? Every day bring lameness, stiffness and torturing twinges? Are you so tired, nervous and dispirited it seems you can never be well again?

Surely, then, you should be finding out what is wrong!

More than likely it's your kidneys. Your kidneys, you know, are constantly filtering impurities from the blood. But weak, sluggish kidneys slow up in their work, allowing poisons to accumulate until there's an upsetting of the whole system.

Then comes constant backache, sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. You feel tired, weak, nervous and depressed.

Don't let this unhappy condition go on! Help your sluggish kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Lowell folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Lowell Folks:

MRS. M. McKENNA,
50 Floyd Street, Sayre:

"My back was lame and weak and hurt in the small of it. Stooling brought sharp pain across my back and I could hardly get up or down. Dizzy spells bothered me and my kidneys acted too frequently. I was nervous, too. Doan's Pills from Liggett's Drug Store relieved me and the cure is lasting."

DANIEL A. COUGHLIN
Stationary Fireman, 57 Barclay Street, Sayre:

"A cold settled in my kidneys and my back became lame. Stooling brought pains in my back and I was badly crippled up. My kidneys acted too frequently, causing me to go up during the night. I got Doan's Pills at the Burkinshaw's Drug Co., and they cured me."

WEALTHY SALEM MAN WEDS SHOE WORKER

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 20.—William Sydney Felton, Harvard graduate, attorney and World War aviator, was married at noon today at the home of his parents, one of the leading families of Salem, to Miss Tosca Szeczhovics, pretty 19-year-old shoe worker.

The wedding was to have been at the rectory of the Second Unitarian church, but when a large crowd assembled there when the time set for the ceremony approached, and a battery of cameras had been trained on the entrance, the parents of the bridegroom called at the rectory for Rev. Alfred Mauchese and drove him to their home to perform the ceremony there.

The announcement of the engagement several days ago created much interest because of the prominence of the Felton family. The bridegroom who is thirty years old, was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1915 and three years later at Harvard law school. Miss Szeczhovics has been employed in a shoe factory at Peabody.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Stock prices resumed their movement to higher ground in today's brief session of the market. Western and southwestern railroad shares, which were bought on expectation of higher earnings, as a result of the unusually heavy grain movement to seaboard, led the advance, with the motor, food and tobacco shares also giving good exhibition of group strength. Standard Plate Glass, the only outstanding weak spot, extended its early loss to nearly five points. Nash Motors advanced three points while the American Tobacco issues, California Packing, Chicago Cattle, and others, were steady. Texas Gulf Sulphur and United States Cast Iron Pipe sold two or more points above yesterday's final prices. The close was firm. Salps. approximately 350.000 shares.

Prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's stock market in reflection of reports of the specialists and tobacco. St. Paul preferred again was under pressure.

The main price movement continued upward through the early trading with new 1924 highs established by American Tobacco and Standard Plate Glass. National Biscuit, United Drug, first preferred, Liggett and Myers B. Pittsburgh and West Virginia preferred, and Missouri Pacific preferred, closed at new 1924 highs. United States Cast Iron Pipe, Postum Cereal and Davison Chemical, good buying also was noted for the grain carrying railroad shares. Standard plate glass broke three points despite official denial of new stock financing and Royal Dutch yielded fractionally to a new low for the year at 40 1/2. Foreign exchange opened firm.

Tommie Martelle at the Opera House

MISS LESLIE RICE
Leading Lady of the Stanley James Players.

Tommie Martelle, the great female impersonator, will be the attraction all next week at the Lowell Opera House, the home of the spoken drama. Supporting Mr. Martelle will be the strong stock cast of the Stanley James players, including Gerald Rowan and Miss Leslie Rice. Mr. Martelle will give the great play, "The Fascinating Widow," originally written especially for Julian Eltinge. Martelle, regarded as the only rival to Eltinge, has made over 2000 appearances in this great show.

With a number of new gowns, the latest creations of the leading modistes of Paris and New York, Mr. Martelle is giving a striking performance. The songs have been changed and several new and unique dances added to the performance. In addition members of the Stanley James players, now in their second week, will provide several specialty numbers.

The final performances of "Just Married" are being given this afternoon and evening. This show, the opening bill of the 1924-25 stock season, made a host of friends for the company. The comfortable theatre, remodeled and redecorated with no sparing of expense proved a revelation to the thousands who visited it during the week and every indication pointed to Mr. James having a most successful season.

Tommie Martelle is in Manchester, N. H., this week, and will have special rehearsals tomorrow to acquaint the stock players with his bill. They have been studying their parts all week and are ready for the dress rehearsal that will mark the appearance of the versatile actor of whom it has been said "the best looking girl on the stage is a boy."

The advance seat sale for Martelle week has been tremendous although a few good seats are still available for the Monday matinee and succeed-

STATEMENT BY THE
GAS LIGHT COMPANY

The following statement relative to the reduction in gas rates is submitted by the Lowell Gas Light company: "It was very pleasing to us to have the public utility commission dismiss the petition of Representative Thomas J. Corbett and uphold the principle of the differential rate in the schedule as filed by the Lowell Gas Light company."

"The commission, after public hearing and after investigation of the subject matter, recommended to the company that it adopt a new schedule of rates to be effective on October first next."

"Having in mind the desire of the mayor to lessen the charge to the small consumer, we agreed to act upon the recommendation of the commission."

BEBE DANIELS AND RICHARD DIX IN "UNGUARDED WOMEN" AT MERRIMACK SQ. THEATRE

The Merrimack Square theatre will include two of Paramount's "Famous Forty" pictures in its program for the coming week, one of these noted special Paramount productions being included in the program for the first part of the week, beginning Sunday, and the second part, beginning Thursday.

The "Famous Forty" attraction for the first part of the week will be "Un- guarded Women," adapted from "The Face" and starring Bebe Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor.

"Un- guarded Women" concerns a young man who in a moment of physical cowardice on the battlefield causes the death of his comrade. Long after the war is over he is still haunted with bitter memories of his momentary weakness. In an effort to forget he goes to China, accompanied by his fiancée. It is in Peking that fate takes a hand in his affairs, for there he meets the widow of his friend who died that he might live. And then we see this high-minded, honorable man decide to make the supreme sacrifice by giving up his fiancée and all thought of happiness to devote his energies towards saving the widow whose utter disregard for the conventions has put her outside the pale of society.

It is a strange, tense, dramatic struggle that takes place there in the picturesque Orient, the heart- stirring conflict between love and duty. And if the startling climax, coming with the suddenness of a thunder- storm out of a clear sky, does not start the red blood in your veins coursing more rapidly, it is because you are too curious to be touched by human weakness and nobility.

What more need be said for the tip-top cast than that they seem to be living their roles instead of merely playing them! Richard Dix, Bebe Daniels, and Mary Astor, each give a marvelous performance; and the supporting staff which includes Walter McGrath, Harry Mestayer, Frank Losee and Joe King are more than adequate in their respective parts.

The entire production with its colorful background and lavish settings reflects great credit on Alan Crossland and his co-workers. Good motion pictures are so few and far between that when a screenplay like "Un- guarded Women" comes along it be- comes a not to miss it.

Mildred Harris plays the feminine lead in "By Divine Right." Elliott Dexter's first picture for Grand-Asher, which will be the second feature for the first part of the week.

This charming star has more than lived up to her reputation as an artist of rare ability. It is said, and the role she portrays in this picture is spoken of as the greatest of her career.

Grace Carlisle, for seven years a Broadway favorite in Frohman and other productions, portrays the wife of the politician and brings to the character much dignity and poise.

Sydney Bracey is a great crook type as Tug Wilson, and DeWitt C. Jennings has an effective part as a police detective. Little Joann Carpenter has a delightful role as the child of the politician and his wife and is the one factor that holds them together.

The story is concerned with a mission worker who is sent to prison for a crime of which he is guiltless and returns, after being reported dead, to right his own wrongs and bring happiness into an unhappy home.

There is a thrilling brain wreck and a big fire scene in the picture together with a great deal of highly emotional drama and a strong love theme.

with even greater success on the screen. Among several big ones that this producer is offering for the season is "It Is The Law" which opens at Loew's Rialto Monday. This picture has a special significance to this city as Herbert Heyes, who has one of the leading roles, was at one time leading man with a local stock company and he was certainly a big favorite here.

"It Is The Law" earned its golden spurn on Broadway last season as one of the most thrilling and interesting melodramatic hits of that year. It is a story of mystery, romance and intrigue.

It was first published as a novel and gained such favor in that form that a well known New York theatrical producing firm commissioned no lesser playwright than Elmer Rice to turn it into a stage play.

Theatre-goers, who know their theatre, will recall that it was Rice who wrote "One Trial." Another one of the most sensational and successful crook plays ever produced. That he did just as good a job with "It Is The Law" was evidenced during the first fortnight of the play's run. Metropolitan critics hailed it and record crowds attended and it continued to run and entertain thousands for more than six months.

"It Is The Law," then, summing it all up, is frankly a melodrama, but a big, high-powered one with a theme based on one of those queer quirks of law: "Can a man be tried twice for the same crime?" The cast includes Herbert Heyes, Mimi Palmer, Arthur Kohl, Florence Dixon and De Sascia Moore.

The added feature on the bill is "Love Letters" starring the diminutive Shirley Mason. Here is a picture that will relieve the suspense of "It Is

millions now living will never die

The rapid changes of government among the nations seem only to check temporarily their steady approach to utter collapse. Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interest of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nations weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant; and hopelessness is followed by despair.

This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon, which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations, and federations, looms up threateningly.

Yet man need not entirely despair. This troublous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately preceding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

Fine Vaudeville Bill at Keith's

BISON CITY FOUR AT KEITH'S THEATRE

Grassy & Dayne will present their charming sketch of New England life at the B. F. Keith theatre Sunday afternoon and evening, as a part of the special bill for that day. And with them will be Jean Lionetti, the lightning xylophonist, and Lynn Howland. Three new acts will be on the program, and the picture feature will be "Skin Deep."

"A Bouquet of Originalities" will be the coming week's headline feature, presented by Harry Downing and company. It is a modern melange of song, dance and patter. Assisting Mr. Downing in this big feature are Earle Stanley, Eleanor Carpenter, Marion Lane and Jack Barry. It is a wholly attractive presentation and one in which costuming plays a big part.

The Bison City Four have to include Lowell in their annual itinerary. It is one of the best known singing quartets in vaudeville. Year after year after year back comes this quartet, consisting of Vic Miley, Frank Girard, George Hughes and Ed Roscoe.

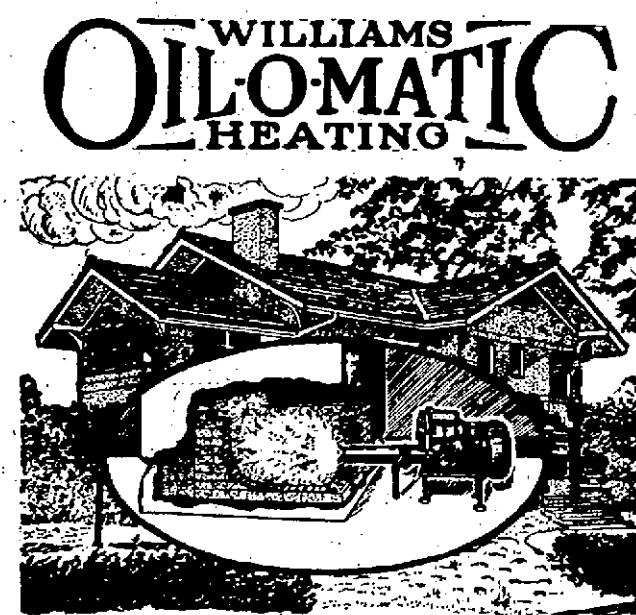

The Griffin Twins seem to be a pair of Prince Charmings. Were they to stand framed before one, the impression would be that of a beautiful picture. As it is they open their act as a pair of Lord Fauntleroy, and the impression gained by audiences is stunning. The boys are very remarkable dancers. Their work is clean cut, and it goes into fields hitherto untouched by many professional stagers. James Mullen who once worked with Allan Coogan is now tied up in stage parance, with Anna Francis a thoroughly capable and charming young woman who works "straight" in the act. Mullen is a happy-go-lucky chap who simply causes audiences to "light their heads off," so to speak. The act is a prime comedy number.

Bollinger and Reynolds will present a novelty wire act, which will be different in every particular from the usual routine of such presentations. They are aerial acrobats of the highest standing.

"Between Friends," a Vitagraph picture presented by a star cast of principals, ought to attract wide attention. Just one look at the names enlisted to make the picture will convince the film goer of the quality of the performance. Lou Tellegen, Anna Q. Nilsson, Norman Kerry and Alice Calhoun. In addition there will be presented Topics of the Day, Aesop's Fables and Pathe News.

There will be check dancing at the Lakeview ballroom tonight and as the weather continues ideal for dancing, no doubt hundreds will journey to the park to enjoy "stepping" to the poppy music by Broderick's Entertainers, one of the foremost ballroom musical organizations in New England. On cool evenings, if necessary, the Lakeview ballroom can be entirely enclosed, thus assuring the dancers real comfort. Next week there will be dancing on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

HOLY NAME CONVENTION

Today Almost Entirely Given Over to Discussion of Lay Activities

19,000 Pay Tribute to Unknown Soldier as Society's Roll of Honor Is Read

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The morning session of lay delegates' day, the third day of the National Holy Name convention here, was almost entirely given over to discussion of problems confronting the lay activities and welfare work of the confraternity.

ates, and visitors by Archbishop Curley of Baltimore, official host to the convention, followed their convening in the gymnasium immediately after the stadium service.

Tribute to Heroes
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—One of the most dramatic and touching incidents that has ever been witnessed in this city took place yesterday afternoon in Arlington cemetery at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Ten thousand people gathered for tribute to the departed one as the roll of honor of Holy Name men in the World war was called.

With tears welling up in his eyes and trembling down his cheeks Cardinal O'Connell, who presided, placed a wreath on the marble tomb of the Unknown Soldier and gave his blessing to the departed one softly, reciting "May his soul rest in peace." He stayed for a moment, silently saying a prayer for God's mercy to the unknown.

of men positively known to have belonged to the Holy Name society who was in the American service on land and called the toll of deaths.

New England was not behind other sections. The Boston diocese was accounted for by 1635 deaths, Burlington 157, Fall River 137, Portland 176, Hartford 345, Manchester 217, Providence 370 and Springfield 502.

INCREASE IN LOCAL MORTALITY RATE

The mortality rate of the city for the week ending today was 17.52, an increase of 5.99 over last week and the week previous. The number of deaths was 95, compared to 25 last week.

Infectious diseases reported during the week follow: Scarlet fever, 1; typhoid fever, 1; measles, 4; tuberculosis, 2.

meeting and briefly pointed out the necessity for the friends of Senator Walsh getting together and assisting him in the campaign. He felt that the splendid service of Senator Walsh to the people of Massachusetts and the high statesmanship type of that service will result in the re-election of Senator Walsh by a substantial vote.

It was then voted by those present to form a permanent organization to be known as the "David I. Walsh club" of Lowell. Election of officers followed and James E. Markham, Esq., was the unanimous choice for president. J. Eugene Millin was unanimously elected secretary. Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, treasurer.

Chairman Markham laid great stress upon the necessity of registration and he assured the organization that plans would be made to bring about a material increase in the registration. John J. Hogan, Esq., was instructed by the chairman to prepare the necessary legal papers to be filed with the secretary of state notifying him that a David I. Walsh club had been organized.

secret but rumors leaked out from the conference room that the plank recommending the restriction of child labor amendment to the federal constitution was one of the planks holding up an agreement.

The committee also had before it a plank submitted by Wendell P. Thron, chairman of the committee of the Order of the Eagles, recommending creation of an old-age pension. Another plank submitted strongly condemned the Ku Klux Klan by name. That plank was accepted at a public session of the committee without discussion.

On the eve of the convention Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, announced yesterday sent a telegram to Chairman Charles H. McClure of the state committee stating that he would be unable to serve. Mr. Ely gave as his reason ill health and the illness of Mrs. Ely. Thomas J. Boynton of Arlington was announced last night as an eleventh-hour choice for the chairmanship. Boynton was formerly state attorney-general and former United States attorney.

As a member of congress Davis was a champion of labor, he declared. When labor asked for a law to restrict the issue of injunctions against unions, Davis aided in the drafting of the Clayton act and on the floor of the house said "that right to strike has won its way against a judicial opposition of 100 years, not only the right to strike but the right to persuade others by peaceful means to join in so doing." In arguing on the constitutionality of the Adamson law, Mr. Fitzgerald quoted Davis as saying, "the lengthening of hours of labor attendant upon changed conditions had become a menace to the employee and to the public. The desire of the employees was for an act to shorten their hours; it was congress' intention to pass such an act, and the provisions of the act actually showed an earnest effort to establish an effective eight hour day as conditions would permit. On behalf of the first federal child labor law, the speaker said Davis declared "there is no right to use the channels of interstate commerce to affect injuriously the health of the child, nor to consummate the producing child. An advantage derived by drawing on the blood of children is immoral x x x."

LA FOLLETTE'S ATTACK

Senator La Follette, now leader of the socialistic, communistic and other dissident and revolutionary forces of the country, has made his first campaign speech and as expected it is ingeniously untruthful and deceptive. It is flagrantly unjust to the democratic party inasmuch as after describing minutely the record of the republican party, and the corruption that disgraced the present administration, he failed to show any similar condition under democratic rule and yet asserted that "both parties are as similar as two peas in a pod."

It is false in import and implication and none knows that better than La Follette; but he is wilfully misrepresenting the facts. He said he would deal with the parties on their record; yet he did not review the record of the democratic party as he did the republican.

But the record of the latter has been denounced quite as strongly by the democratic candidate as it can be by La Follette. The independent candidate is now stealing the democratic platform and principles and adding thereto his own vagaries favoring socialistic legislation. He denounces the rich without discriminating between those whose riches were accumulated by honest labor and those who were the beneficiaries of special privilege under the republican regime.

La Follette is an out and out demagogue who for years past has favored an amendment of the constitution to empower congress to override the supreme court. That would destroy the constitution which the supreme court merely interprets. If congress enacts a law at variance with the constitution, the supreme court, if called upon to pass upon it, annuls the measure. If congress could override the supreme court, it would wield a sovereign power and the liberties of the people would no longer be secure. All the radicals in the country will now hurrah for La Follette, because he has assailed the government, assailed capital, assailed the supreme court and assailed the democratic party whose principles and policies would right the governmental wrongs complained of while those of La Follette would destroy popular liberty and establish a system quite resembling the Soviet regime of Russia which abolished capital and is now a mendicant before the world, seeking a loan to rehabilitate the industries which the Bolsheviks destroyed.

La Follette's speech is a compound of socialism and political bunk. He says he represents the people and that the two major parties represent the interests. If that were so, we should say God help the people. He sets himself up on a high plane when he says he stands for three principles of Jefferson and Lincoln. He did not show much of the Lincoln spirit of patriotism when the country was involved in war and when a foreign foe dared to trample upon American rights and drag our banner in the dust. The one element of our population on which La Follette can rely for loyal support is the German-American which is strong in Wisconsin and Illinois.

As to his economic program it enters a general protest against private monopolies. He would have co-operative marketing for farmers, super-power under government control and he would curb the building trust. He has no definite plans as to the tariff, taxation or the railroad question; but simply confines his trade to the old howl of trust-busting without going into specific terms. Instead of showing progress he has given a decided demonstration of the hidebound reactionary. He is twenty years behind the times. He says the people must hereafter look to a third party for redress of governmental evils. What he says of the republican party is largely true, what he says of the democratic party is almost entirely false. In all he says there is not a scintilla of hope for the people. The two parties are not alike as he claims and the democratic party is not responsible for republican failure.

The La Follette aggregation would bring chaos instead of reform and, therefore, the people can look for improved conditions only under a democratic administration with John W. Davis as president. No intelligent citizen should throw away his vote on the La Follette ticket which at best can only defeat the progress of government reform under the democratic party.

GUNMEN AND BANDITS

The holdup and attempted robbery of Milkman Peabody bears an important lesson to the people of Lowell relative to the carrying of revolvers. We understand that there are hundreds of men in this city totting around revolvers without a license authorizing them to do so. Those who carry revolvers without any good reason, seldom ask for a permit. As a result, there are frequent shootings for the reason that the rowdy who carries a revolver will generally use it on the slightest provocation.

The business of the holdup men brings such large returns in New York, Chicago and some other cities, that evidently some of our local gunmen have decided to try their hand at the game. Thus far their success has not been phenomenal, and when the Peabody holdup shall have been cleared up and the gunman lodged in jail for a long period of years, perhaps others who might be disposed to perpetrate such crimes will decide that they had better not and that Lowell is not a good place in which to attempt high-way robbery or burglary of any kind. Bandits escape the penalties of the law in New York and Chicago, but they can't do it in Lowell.

Recent reports published in the newspapers announced that the number of permits granted for carrying revolvers in Lowell was less than the number granted in other cities of our size, but we probably lead in the number who carry weapons without permits. It is high time that the police should inaugurate a crusade to clear the city of thugs, thieves, gunmen, bootleggers, flim-flam workers and criminals of all kinds.

Men such as Milkman Peabody should carry revolvers so as to be ready to shoot any thug who attempts to rob them at the point of a revolver. Had he had a weapon at hand, he might have shot one or both of his assailants despite the fact that a bullet had been sent through his body, grazing his heart.

AGAINST MACHINE METHODS
Many republicans of Massachusetts are still powerful of Chairman W. M. Butler's intrusion in the republican senatorial primary in behalf of Speaker Gillett, whose nomination he urged, presumably with previous approval from President Coolidge. Not alone the unsuccessful candidates, Congressman Dallinger and Louis A. Coolidge, but their friends and supporters are denouncing Butler's action.

Louis A. Coolidge described Butler's interference in the senatorial contest as a "low trick by a low politician," Charles Sumner Rird, for many years prominent in republican politics in Massachusetts, declared that "the democratic primary system in this state is being attacked."

"Why should we go to all the trouble and expense of a primary if we are to allow a politician boss to determine who the party's candidate shall be?" Mr. Rird asked 2000 hearers at a mass meeting in Tremont Temple.

Former Mayor Walter C. Wardwell of Cambridge, now commissioner of Middlesex county, advised the republicans in the meeting that they should "send word back to Mr. Butler that we are going to manage our own affairs," yet White House domination prevailed in the primary, but may not be so potent in the final election.

Congressman Dallinger speaking at the same meeting recalled that both Chairman Butler and Speaker Gillett, when members of the Massachusetts legislature, opposed the 58-hour law for women and minors. It was natural, Mr. Dallinger said, that Mr. Butler, a millionaire, should admire Speaker Gillett, "his friend," in view of their common opposition to the 58-hour law.

ENCOURAGING CRIME
Judge Keyes of Concord showed either ignorance of the law or unwarranted leniency when he imposed merely a fine of $125 for gross violations of the auto laws. The accused man was driving while intoxicated and was arrested only after a chase of five miles by the police. The car he drove was not registered and the plates used were stolen from another man's auto. No fine was imposed for the use of stolen number plates and the driver was placed on probation on the charge of drunkenness. But what was most surprising of all, the court allowed him to continue driving his car up until May 1, 1925, except in the evening. The court in this exceeded its authority. The man should have been sent to jail.

Register Goodwin has promptly objected to this form of judicial license to operate and reminds the court that conviction for driving while intoxicated carries the suspension of the driver's license for one year. If the courts do not back up Registrar Goodwin and the police in the enforcement of the auto laws, the accidents on the highways will be increased.

SECRETARY WILBUR CALLED
Secretary Wilbur of the navy department has been called to the White House from a speaking tour of the western states, presumably on account of some statements he has made which the president considers detrimental to the republican cause or otherwise out of harmony with the policies which he wishes to promote in regard to Japanese affairs in California and other matters of a kindred nature. It is not known just what the president's objections have been, inasmuch as the conference between him and Secretary Wilbur was strictly private, and somewhat similar to the presidential interview with Gen. Dawes after that gentleman made his speech at Augusta,

Me. The president is not talking out loud; but he is watching the statements made on the stump and endeavoring as best he can to keep the orators, especially the cabinet officials, from spilling the beans.

STREET DEPT. MESS

So far as can be determined and apparently by common consent, the affairs of the street department are in a bad mess. Apparently the system of cost accounting, recently introduced, has either been a failure or else it has not been properly applied. Who is responsible for that? In such a department, there should be no difficulty in ascertaining how much each job costs and how much per square yard any piece of paving costs. The mayor, of course, is indirectly responsible for the work of the departments placed under his supervision, which implies that when he finds things going wrong in any department, he shall use his executive authority to bring about the remedy. It is then the function of the council to approve or disapprove his action.

SENATOR WALSH

Just because Senator David I. Walsh opened headquarters of his own in Boston, the Herald of that city announced that he was going to run a personal campaign independent of the rest of the ticket. The senator lost no time in contradicting the statement. It is plain that his campaign should receive some special attention in addition to what the state committee can give it, inasmuch as the main drive of the republican leaders will be to elect Gillett. But in fighting his own battle, the senator will not fail to do what he can for the rest of the ticket.

REPUBLICAN PROSPERITY

One of the appeals of the republican campaign as directed by William M. Butler, is that republican success will bring prosperity. Indeed, President Coolidge in a recent speech said prosperity already abounds here, yet we see many of the mills of New England idle and some of them cutting wages as a condition of starting work. And Mr. Butler is a prominent textile manufacturer and now regarded as a sort of advance agent of prosperity!

That check for $100,000 turned over to the city under the will of Freeman D. Shedd will go far toward the development of the park which he donated to the city before his death. When he made his will that sum was sufficient to cover the entire work, but it would not be adequate at the cost of labor and material today.

It is not a good practice for business men to exhibit big rolls of money in their business transactions with others. They may thus tempt the cupidity of the avaricious and lay themselves open to attack. It is rather a queer world we're living in just at present.

It seems to be up to the city council to take the initiative in the repair of the Edison school and let it be said that it will not pay to expend the price of a new building in repairing the old.

Today Worcester is the scene for the political leaders of the state who will attend one or other of the two state conventions.

Formerly home brew and moonshine were the chief products in violation of the Volstead act. Now alcohol takes the lead.

We need a crusade for the suppression of gunmen.

WEDDING AT ST. ANNE'S THIS EVENING

Mr. Charles F. Grover gave a dinner party last night at Page's in honor of his daughter, Miss Louise F. Grover, whose wedding this evening at St. Anne's church to Mr. Roland T. Platt is of wide interest. Members of the bride party and relatives were present, as well as Rev. Appleton Grynne, rector of St. Anne's. The wedding tonight will be attended by several hundred persons from Lowell and other nearby cities.

The bride will be attended by her cousin, Miss Josephine Evelyn Grover, of Haverhill, an maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Charles Coburn Dexter and Miss Gertrude Landis, both of Lowell. The best man will be Mr. Philip Martin Carpenter of Hartford, Conn. The ushers will be in the charge of Mr. James Galtichow of this city and will include Mr. Father Francis Grover of Montclair, N. SEEN AND HEARD

Our idea of a good Ford joke is trying to sell one to Henry.

Mind your own business, do the best you can and perhaps you'll come out all right.

A Thought
Wickedness may prosper for a while. —L'Esperance.

Marital Preferred
The burglar's wife was in the witness box. "Madame, are you the prisoner's wife?" demanded the prosecuting attorney. "Yes." "How did you come to contract a matrimonial alliance with such a man?" "Well," said the witness sarcastically, "I was getting old and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer."

One More Bottle
He found his hair was leaving the top of his head, and took his barber to task about it. "You sold me two bottles of stuff to make this hair grow," "It is very strange it won't grow again," said the barber. "I can't understand it." "Well, look here," said the man. "I don't mind drinking another bottle, but it must be the last."

Wasn't Raining
The boss was caught in a rainstorm without an umbrella. Wringing wet, he sought the radiator near his stenographer's desk. "Mersey," exclaimed the fair feminine figure. "Is it raining?" "Oh, no," retorted the boss. "I was out playing water polo with George Washington and the bottom of the river blew up and hit me in the face."

Modern Tragedy
The policeman, hearing the shot, burst into the fashionable apartment. Crying before him on the floor was the crumpled figure of a woman, weeping hysterically, a smoking pistol clutched in her trembling fingers. "My husband! Oh, my husband!" she moaned. "Control yourself, lady," urged the officer. "Where is the corpse?" "Gone," sobbed the woman. "He went out through the window. I—I missed him."

Now You Know
The mystery play was about to start when the heroine rushed into the manager's office. "What shall I do?" she cried. "My maid has fled with my jewels. I'm in a fix." "What's gone?" asked the manager sternly. "The diamond tiara, the necklace and all the diamond rings and gold bracelets." The manager frowned and pondered. "You must pay for this!" he said. "You were responsible for the jewel chest. I shall deduct from your week's salary." —Hobnob Sunday Herald.

Making It Certain
"Dad ye think this box is strong enough to trust in the van?" asked a Highland farmer at the railway station. "I don't see it," replied the porter. "Well, see!" He lifted the box and let it fall with a crash. "I'll get that here," he said. "An' it'll get that!" he gave it another bang—"at the junction. An' at Dundee it'll get that." The third "bang" burst the box and its contents were scattered over the platform. The porter shook his head. "No," he said. "I think it wianna get past Dundee. If it's goin' further 'n' no strong enough." —Montreal Gazette.

Raw! Raw! Raw!
The rookie had lately joined a crack cavalry outfit, and after several humiliations of the Prince of Wales had lost some of his exuberance. He was standing in the sun on the side of the canteen looking like the spirit of melancholy when the genial chaplain approached. "What's the matter, my boy?" asked the chaplain. "Home-sick?" "Oh, a little, I guess," was the answer. "You see, I'm just a raw recruit. 'Cheer up, you'll be all right.' The raw is superior," the rookie rubbed his anatomy reflectively and then replied with sad emphasis: "But when you join the cavalry it ain't." —Legion Weekly.

It Didn't Work
Farmer Skinner, the champion mean man, hired a country youth to help him with his work, and as the boy turned up at 6 o'clock, he at once set down to breakfast. After the boy had eaten his fill, the farmer suggested that while they were about it, they should eat dinner. The lad agreed, and managed to get down a little more. Seeing that his helper turned up as usual, Skinner suggested getting supper, and thus got the day's meal over. "All right," gasped the boy, and swallowed a mouthful of bread. "And now," cried the farmer, thinking of his saving in food, "let's go to work." "Not likely," answered the boy: "I go to bed after supper."

Work
Let me but do my work from day to day.
In field or forest, at desk or loom.
In roiling market place or tranquil road.
Let me but find in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray.
"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom."
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way.
Then shall I see it not too great, nor small.
To suit my spirit and to prove my power;
Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours.
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall.
At eventide, to play and love and rest,
Because I know for no my work is best.
—HENRY VAN DYKE.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The butchers, the bakers, the candle-stick makers rarely mingle when they sport away to the beaches in the summer time to hold their outings and clamfests. It may be that the butchers will have a few bakers as guests, but you don't ever hear about any "joint outings of the butchers and bakers," unless it happens to be the Lowell food department emporium, where everybody goes away on the annual outings as a party. This party always includes the butchers and the bakers, the delicatessen lads and lassies and all the rest of them, including the boss. When the single-business butchers around the town go to the shore, or the Tewksbury shady nooks on pasture questing, the bakers choose another day and somewhere else—always. Probably for no reason at all, but nevertheless they mingle not freely and probably never will.

And you need with not a little interest, that proves what we are trying to convey, that bakers from Lowell and from all over New England and states as far west as Illinois, will gather at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Sept. 23, 24 and 30, for the annual single-business butchers convention of the New England Bakers' association. It will be one of the largest conventions of representatives of the baking industry ever held. Lowell will have more bakers present than ever before. There are to be educational lectures of value presented at the Swampscott rally, and a feature will be working exhibitions of baking equipment. Sports are also to be numerous, with the 10th annual horseshoe contests sure to make new history. Such names as Shepard, "Red" Campbell, E. C. Johnson, Hawthorne, and others, who have won the Parks and Wickensham found on the list of outing committees. And the butchers have not been invited.

The great steel exposition to be held at Commonwealth pier September 22-26 will enable New Englanders to view one of the most extensive exhibits of the steel industry ever held. The exposition, a composite of the technical brains of the steel-treating world and represents the progress that has been made in the history of the treatment of steel. Included in the demonstration will be government exhibits and products of the steel manufacturers of the country. The uses of electricity in the production of fine grades of steel and the carbonizing and case hardening processes in which electric furnaces are used will be one of the main features of the exposition. Among those attending the exhibit will be Dr. Kotaro Honda of Japan, Dr. George Brille of Queensland and Dr. Herman Bleibtreu of Saarbrücken. Dr. McAdam, Dr. U. S. Naval Experimenting station, H. H. Lester, Watertown Arsenal; H. J. French and O. Z. Klopsch, Bureau of Standards.

Considerable adverse comment has been heard for years in regard to the bridge over Beaver brook at Beaver street and it has been a general opinion that the bridge is the property of the city. This is not so, according to persons familiar with the district, who claim that it was built by a land development company. The bridge, which attained fame during freer time a year ago by floating away, little deserves to be called a bridge, according to men who attended the hearing before the city council Tuesday evening on a petition for a new bridge in the district. However, calling it by any name at all, it is evidently useful to residents of the section for they have gone to the bother of tying it down with ropes to make sure it will not float away again until a real bridge is put over the brook.

Lowell Council Welfare Workers are to have a big outing at the city man school in Westboro next Wednesday, Sept. 24. In order to make the affair the biggest and best on record, the officers have invited the Worcester and the Lowell Rotarians to join with them. The local party will include the Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will make the trip over the road in automobiles. C. Fred Gilmore and Mr. Cheney are two of the hard-working members of the committee on arrangements.

"The Reminder" an interesting three-page weekly, organized by members of the First Universalist church, Rev. H. W. Haynes pastor, at hand. This miniature paper is a novel adventure into the field of publicity by the local church members and treats of religious educational and general subjects. The programs for Sunday services, Sunday school notes and general information, including a question box, are presented in places in the junior journal, which gives fair indications of a larger publication in the future.

Among the candidates for congress in the state of Wisconsin is "Jimmy" Kelly, a relative of the Belgian family of Sixth street, this city. For the past several years, "Jimmy" has been secretary to Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin. Everybody in his native state knows him simply as "Jimmy," and in an advertisement which I saw in a Wisconsin paper recently, it was signed simply "Jimmy" Kelly. He was born in Providence, R. I., but moved west several years ago.

I see that this morning's Lowell Courier-Citizen in speaking of the accelerometer, which is in use in Boston as a present in testing the efficiency of automobile brakes, says: "The driver's newest foe"—I think it should be brought out that this instrument is not a foe of the driver but is intended solely to bring about greater safety for him.

ROGERS HALL SCHOOL WILL OPEN FRIDAY

Rogers Hall school will open for its 33rd year on Friday, Sept. 26th, with a full enrollment of students from many sections of the country. In addition to the young women who will enter the academic and college preparatory courses, 20 students who are graduates of high schools will enter the graduate department or take an extra year of review work in preparation for college examinations. A number of changes have been made at the school during the summer months, adding to the comfort and convenience of students.

LONELINESS

Try, in making people dying.
Blossoms all around me sighing.
Fragrance from the lilies straying.
Zephyr, with my ripples playing.
Yet but waken my distress:
I am sick of loneliness.

Absent still? Ah! come and bless me!
Let these eyes again caress thee;
Once, in caution, I could fly thee;
Now, I nothing could deny thee:
In a look if death there be,
Come and I will gaze on thee!

A BEDTIME STORY

Each night, like as not, a wee little tot shouts "Daddy, please tell me a story." You've found it that way, at the end of the day when the sandman steals near, in his glory. 'Supposin', some night ere you turned out the light, you'd turn to the youngster and say, "Now listen here, son, out of stories I've run; let's pretend that it's your turn today." I'll lay you a bet that a thrill you would get; just a thrill that no father would miss. For the average tot gets away on the dot and his story runs something like this:

"Little Miss Muffet, she sat on a tuffet and didn't know where to find 'em. He stuck in his thumb and pulled out a plum, waggin' their tails behind 'em."

"Pussy cat, pussy cat, where have you been? How does your garden grow? Old Mother Hubbard, she went to the cupboard, and pretty maids all in a row."

And that is the way, at the end of the day, a little tot answers the call. The story 'twill bring, though it means not a thing, is, the best bedtime story of all.

THREE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNORS AS SPEAKERS FOR NEW ENGLAND

Great Effort Will Be Made to Elect Senator Walsh and Save Party in New Hampshire and Rhode Island—La Follette Plans Third Party Against Democratic Party

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The democrats have made gains in the past week. John W. Davis has been speaking to large and enthusiastic audiences in the west and his tour is regarded as very much of a success. He makes an excellent appearance on the stump and his speeches have been full of punch without being intemperate. He is gaining strength constantly and there is no tangible proof of the assertions from the La Follette-Wheeler headquarters that the fight is really between President Coolidge and Senator La Follette. On the contrary, all important straw votes show the fight is between Coolidge and Davis. The democrats frankly do not expect to do much in Massachusetts and other New England States. Democratic hopes are where they can, within the limits of their resources, to help Senator Walsh in Massachusetts, Gov. Brown in New Hampshire and will also devote attention to Rhode Island.

They will attack President Coolidge on three points principally in New England—the Boston police strike, from which the democrats are declaring the president obtained much undeserved credit; the failure of official Washington to do anything to relieve the last anthracite shortage; and the wage cuts and unemployment in New England textile centers despite the high tariff. The Boston police strike has been brought into this campaign apparently as part of a national effort on the part of the democrats to show, or attempt to show, that the president is not the wise, strong, decisive courageous man his friends believe him to be. The democrats also are going after the La Follette movement in New England and other eastern points on the ground that a vote for La Follette is a vote to destroy the democratic party. They will argue that La Follette hopes to establish a new party in this country and hopes to build it partly on eastern republicans and partly on eastern democrats with a view of swallowing most of them.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO
From the old Sun:
"Another Lowell boy is acquiring military fame and rendering noble service to his country in the distant Philippines."
John F. Desmond was always a darling fellow and possessed of a modesty that prevented him from recounting or boasting of his deeds whether they might be of a heroic, charitable or friendly nature. It is not surprising, therefore, that although he has been in the Philippines for more than two years and engaged in most dangerous work in Uncle Sam's service there, that nothing was learned of his bravery by the people in his native city.

Desmond is now one of Young's scouts, a group of young men who face every danger and have no fear of the Philippine bullets.
Desmond was born in Lowell and received his education in the old Mann school. When he left school he found employment in the Merrimack mills. He later went to Worcester and entered the employ of the Washburn Woolen company from which he went to North Dakota where he finally settled. When the war was declared he enlisted in the First North Dakota regiment of volunteers, to go to the Philippines. The brave spirit and character of the young man soon asserted themselves there and when Young's company was formed he joined. Desmond received the medal of honor and the medal for valorous conduct from congress for his service in the regiment.

FALK'S GREAT HITTING RECALLS PRE-DICTION OF LATE FRANK CHANCE

White Sox Outfielder Runner-up to Babe Ruth—Walter Johnson Scores 22nd Victory of Season—Hornsbey Continues Way Out in Front Among Nat. League Batters

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bill Falk, by his heavy hitting and great playing for the Chicago Americans, is fulfilling a prediction by the late Frank Chance a few days after the "peerless leader" had signed to manage the club.

"Keep that young fellow in the game regularly and it will not be long before you will find him batting rings around all the rest of them," Chance declared.

Averages, including games of last Wednesday, show Falk trailing Babe Ruth for the batting honors of the American league with .357. Ruth tops the list with .344. The averages of players who have participated in 100 or more games. Falk has participated in 127 games and cracked out 171 hits. Walter Johnson, veteran pitcher of the Washington Senators, voted the most valuable player of the season to his club, acquired another honor when he defeated Cleveland. He hung up his 22d victory, one ahead of Herb Pennock, star southpaw of the rival New York Yankees.

Eddie Collins added two more stolen bases, leading with 41.

Babe Ruth is 13 home runs under his record of 65.

Jim Bottomley, St. Louis Cardinal first baseman, has entrenched himself safely among the ten leading hitters of the National league with .331. He gained 11 points in a week. Rogers Hornsbey, who touched the peak of his batting prowess about three weeks ago and then was injured, returned to the game, but made only four hits in four games and dropped to .424. The mark, however, is far enough in front again to crown him champion. Hornsbey leads in total bases with 350.

Outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers leading the league with 27. Cy Williams of the Phillies is next with 21. Max Carey with his 43 thefts has the honors for base stealing.

EVERETT TRUE

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

NO. CAMBRIDGE PLAYS SILESIA TOMORROW

A ball game of considerable importance has been arranged for picturesque Silesia park, North Chelmsford, tomorrow afternoon when the North Cambridge team, champions of the Boston Twilight league, will line up against the Silesia team at 3.15 o'clock.

The North Cambridge outfit is headed by the aggressive Dan Leahy and is composed of some of the fastest college and former league players in this vicinity. Lowell fans are very familiar with the Cantoras, for only recently they triumphed over the Lobos in a series to break the tie then existing for league leadership. After eliminating Abbotts the outfit defeated Lawrence in a series to decide the pennant.

Leahy's charges since have played Nashua and Gardner of the Central Twilight league, the organization of which Silesia was a member. The team is one of the best ever assembled in this vicinity and Manager Leahy will bring his strongest lineup to North Chelmsford tomorrow to meet the militia.

Silesia will present its regular lineup with Wyckoff former Athletic on the mound. With the road to North Chelmsford now in good condition the management has made arrangements to accommodate a large crowd.

PRACTICE SESSION BY O. M. I. CADETS

A special practice session of the O. M. I. Cadet football team will be held on the North common tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and all former players and new candidates are requested to attend. Manager Jack Collier announced this morning that a new captain will be elected to succeed Dan O'Connor, who has entered the army.

There are several veterans on the team who are candidates for the captaincy, and because of the importance of the position, the manager would like all members of the outfit to be present. The first game will be played in the near future.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Lisbon Thirde would like to meet the Nationals next Sunday at the South common. The challenge is accepted. The Lisbon would like to meet any 75-95 pound team in this city. Answer through this paper for games or call 6591 and ask for Melio.

St. Peter's Cadets.
A practice session for the members of the St. Peter's Cadets football team will be held on the South common tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock. All members are requested by manager Rogers to be in uniform. Tomorrow morning the members of the squad as well as all members of the organization will attend communion in a body at St. Peter's church.

All members of the Tigers A. A. are requested to report for practice on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, North common.

The Tigers are without a game for Sunday, Sept. 23. They challenge the Bulldogs or the Wanderers to a game on that date.

This year the Tiger line-up will be reinforced by Kokkavine and McDonough, both formerly of the Lions of Haverhill.

The Delviders Seminoles challenge any 100 pound team in the city. Answer through this paper.

Pres. Coolidge Sends Message

the loyal support which they have given me. President developments indicate that the coming election the republican party is the only hope which America has for economy, stability and common sense in government. The appeal which he makes to the patriotism of the nation for present support has not been exceeded in many years. I know that we can depend on Massachusetts and believe we can depend on the nation.

(Signed) "CALVIN COOLIDGE"

All indications in advance of the resolutions committee's report to the convention were that the platform would decide, without record dissent, in favor of the national convention's stand on the Ku Klux Klan, the committee having defeated a proposal to denounce it by name; that it would favor revision of the direct primary so that state candidates except governor and lieutenant governor would be nominated by convention and that it would be the only reference to the proposal that the party refuse to endorse State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, candidate for re-election and Washington Cook, his brother, candidate for the republicans in the second councillor district.

Possibility of Fight on Klan

There were possibilities of a fight on the floor on the Klan issue, which was introduced before the resolutions committee by a woman, Mrs. George W. Knowlton, Jr., of West Union, but Mayor E. P. Leonard of Springfield who had said he would not fight, was inclined today to stand by the platform as prepared. The resolutions committee had practically completed its work at midnight, when it adjourned until 9.30 a. m.

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in a letter to Chairman Foss, expressed regret at his inability to attend, saying he regarded President Coolidge "invulnerable" as a candidate and called for every possible effort to gain for the republican party the seat now held by Senator David J. Walsh, a democrat. Senator Lodge said he hoped later to be able to take part in the campaign.

Of President Coolidge, the senator's letter said he should be assured "a majority in Massachusetts greater than any candidate has ever received."

When the convention was called to order by Chairman Frank H. Foss, of the state committee just before 11 a. m., the resolutions committee had completed its reports, but voted not to make it public until it was actually presented as the party platform.

Overnight consideration was said to have developed no essential change. In his speech as temporary chairman, Mr. Foss said "no state in recent years has been able to match the brilliant financial showing of the commonwealth under republican governors."

"In the White House sits a man of Massachusetts whose rugged honesty inspiring character and determination to do the right thing, regardless of political expediency, has won the ad-

Jack Dempsey's Classic Profile

JACK DEMPSEY

But yes, my good Gottlieb, you were right the first time. This is the regal Mr. Dempsey. The picture, which was snapped while Gentleman Jack was watching the New York police games at the Jamaica (L. I.) race track, affords a very good view of the new Dempsey proboscis—sometimes vulgarly referred to as nose. Jack, you will remember, had his beak, which was somewhat shop-worn and distorted from careless contact with flying gloves, done over by a surgeon. And whether our champion had his nose altered to improve his beauty, or, as he contends, to facilitate his breathing, is of slight matter. Of more momentous consequence is the fact that Jack's hand-made beaver gives him a rather wicked profile, if you know what we mean, and Jack Barrymore and Rodolph Valentino had best look to their honors.

leadership of charming gentlemen who have compromised with Bryanism. . . . The line of battle is drawn. There can be no division of forces. Those who are not for are against. The leader has already taken his stand on the battle line. He will not retreat. He does not know how to march except straight ahead. His life and character and service testify to his abiding faith in the American people and in American institutions. That sufficient leader in the preservation of American liberties is Calvin Coolidge."

Gov. Cox Delivers Keynote

A plea to patriotic men and women to "overstep party lines and put the good of their country above every other consideration" in the forthcoming election in order "to meet the threat which the La Follette program presents," was made by Gov. Channing Cox in his address as permanent chairman at the republican state convention here today.

"He is no dreamer of dreams," he said in referring to Senator La Follette, "no visionary freed with holy zeal, staking his all in behalf of principle. He is a practical politician of masterful attainments in that field."

No one knows better than he that there can be no possible combination of circumstances which would permit his election as president. . . . He knows his power to prevent the election of one other than his choice, and so he has planned his next move. . . . He is a practical politician of masterful attainments in that field."

Mr. Fuller said: "Let no man have doubt as to my policy as governor. It will be to continue the business-like, efficient and economical administration of Calvin Coolidge and Channing Cox."

Under Gov. Coolidge, commissions were consolidated, the budget was introduced, and the affairs of the state put on a firm basis. Under Gov. Cox's leadership, the commission on administration was established and perfecting legislation was enacted which gave the commission an opportunity to effect wide economies and improve business methods. . . . Now we are going to strive to continue these methods which guard the public treasury and the well-being of our citizens.

YANKS APPEAR TO HAVE CRACKED, SENATORS SAILING ALONG

Pirates Down Robins and Still Have Fighting Chance for Flag—Heinie Groh Injured as Giants Defeat Cubs—Tigers Rout Yankees

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—To accomplish the unperformed feat of winning four consecutive major league pennants, the Giants need only to win seven of their remaining eight contests. Even if either Brooklyn or Pittsburgh should capture all of their remaining games.

If the Giants win only six, the Pirates could win the pennant by a margin of one-half game by taking the ten yet on their schedule. The Robins, by capturing their seven left to play, would then tie the New York.

A trick of the schedule which brings the three contending teams into competition in the final rush favors the Giants. If the Pirates and Robins each win one of their two games to be played today and tomorrow, the Giants could lose two of their series of three to McClellan's team and still come home by capturing only five of the eight remaining on their schedule today.

If either Pittsburgh or Brooklyn makes a double killing at the other, the losing team will be eliminated.

The Senators as yet have no such comforting margin. If Washington loses one game, the Yankees can tie for the lead by taking their remaining contests. Each has nine to play.

Events of yesterday, however, indicated a tendency on the part of the world champions to crack while Washington sailed gloriously through St. Louis under a 15 to 9 score. Sad Sam Jones, with a five to three lead in the eighth, was set upon by ferocious tiger pinch hitters and driven from the box as the score was tied. In the ninth Joe Dugan threw wild and Hoyt, after passing two men purposely, permitted Hunter's single for the winning run of a six to five victory. The Tigers, out of it, are making it as hard for the Yankees as they did for the Senators.

Nichols, hitting the Yankees in the first of the six games with the Robins and Giants, which the Yankees lost, was the only pitcher to win a game. The center fielder made three hits and stole three bases. Wright hit a home run and accepted ten chances at shortstop. The Yankees lost a 10 to 2 victory, largely due to the brilliance of Gaylor and Wright, an easy ten to four win over Chicago, while Pittsburgh downed Brooklyn in the first of the six games with the Robins and Giants, which the Yankees lost, was the only pitcher to win a game. WALES TO LEAVE FOR HIS RANCH IN ALBERTA
SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The Long Island visit of the Prince of Wales will come to an end tomorrow night when he will quit the scene of many dinners, dances and polo games to travel to his ranch at High River, Alberta, where he will spend a month looking over his lands.
The prince leaves polo behind him for more than a year, since he has sold his ponies and does not expect to get in any more practice until after he returns from South Africa nearly a year hence. He planned to have a final view of the game today at Mendonbrook.
Final plans for the trip of the royal party from Syosset to Montreal and thence to Alberta will be completed today. It is expected that they will travel by yacht across Long Island sound and board a special train at New London, Conn.

FOOD EXHIBITS SENT TO HOSPITALS
Officers and members of Middlesex
North Agricultural society have completed the pleasant task of distributing among local hospitals and other institutions all food exhibits displayed at Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday last, during the annual county fair conducted by the society and with wonderful success.
Automobile trucks generously provided by the Lawrence Mfg. Co., Tremont & Suffolk mills, Thomas Curley and others, carried to the Auditorium vegetables, canned goods and other delicacies displayed at the fair, to such institutions as Ayr home, Old Ladies' home, Battles home, Salvation
Army, Lowell Corporation hospital,
Lowell General hospital, St. John's hospital, Mrs. O'Leary's home, French-
American orphanage, Day Nursery, St.
Peter's orphanage, State hospital and St. Patrick's home. The committee on the fair is grateful to the trustees of the Auditorium for their hearty cooperation, to the local newspapers for excellent publicity efforts and the public at large for its splendid support, without which the annual exhibition could not have succeeded.

REGISTRATIONS IN CHELMSFORD SCHOOLS
Registrations of pupils in all Chelmsford public schools have reached a total of more than 1,300, the school committee announces. Work on the addition to East Chelmsford school has not been completed, but the school will open next Monday morning. Mrs. Katy D. Greenleaf will act as principal of the building, teaching grades six, seven and eight. Miss Ruth Ward of North Chelmsford will teach grades three, four and five, and Miss Grace Sheehan, grades one and two.
New desks have been placed in the Quassy school in West Chelmsford, the pupil enrollment this year having doubled. Princeton street school has taken some of the "overflow" of children that crowded the Highland avenue school in No. Chelmsford on full opening day.

SEEK $100,000 ON TRIP
OF 500,000 MILES

Remaining in Lowell over the weekend is a party of four automobile tourists who are racing against time in an effort to complete a 500,000 mile endurance run for a purse of $100,000.
Miss Nell Leon is the pilot and her companions are her brother, Jack Leon, mechanician, Miss Jean Allen, official timer, and Miss Grace Hall, secretary.
The trip is the result of a challenge made in the summer of 1916 by E. J. Anderson of Nome, Alaska. The trip was started Sept. 1, 1916, from Jamaica, L. I. and since then the racers have covered more than 420,000 miles, have twice encircled the globe and have crossed the American continent five times. The trip must be completed next year if the award is to be won. One stipulation of the wager was that the party must earn its own living along the way.
The travelers have had countless thrilling experiences and have passed through practically every country on the face of the globe. Overseas travel is made in tramp steamers or tankers.
People of all races have been met,
including kings and queens, Presidents Harding and Coolidge, General Pershing, Pancho Villa, Marshal Foch, Thomas A. Edison, and a host of others equally as notable.

880.06 and taxes at $3510.43. A deduc-tion of $22,422 is made from the balance and charged as six per cent interest on the cost of this property operated.
Were it not for this item a net operating profit of over $1,000 a day would be shown for the Lowell division.

PLAN TO REVIVE

Plans were laid for the revival of the old C.Y.M.L. Glee club at a meeting of the members of the C.Y.M.L. in the society hall last evening.
John J. Molloy was chairman of the meeting and Henry McCullough served as secretary. Throughout the evening plans were projected and considered for the reviving of the organization that flourished six or seven years ago.
All former members of the glee club and others interested are asked to be present at the meeting to be held in the C.Y.M.L. hall next Monday evening.

evening. Mrs. Smart was assisted by Mrs. Bamber, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs.
Roper.
At a meeting of the Pawtucketville
Social club Thursday evening, Councillor Arthur Genest, Louis P. Tur-cotte and O. Deschenaux were elected cieties to be held Sept. 29 under the

LABOR LINING IN FAVOR OF ELECT-ING DAVIS AND BRYAN

"Reports from all over the country show that the rank and file of labor is lining up behind the candidacies of John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan," John W. Davis, director of the labor bureau, said at democratic headquarters in the Hotel Mcmont today.
"This is as true of the railroad groups, which have been claimed solidly for independent candidates as it is of other groups not identified with transportation, or the socialist party."
"This is the net result of Mr. Davis' Labor Day speech which swept away any doubt that may have existed as to his position on the matters of vital importance to labor such as the abolition of the railroad labor board, and the use of injunctions to break strikes.
"The only elements in the movement which are not lining up behind the democratic ticket are those which in the past have been socialist, which even now are withered in dual unions and which, running true to form, now support the candidates endorsed by the socialist party. This element, which has made trouble in many of the larger unions, is not any stronger than it has been all the year, the real trade unionists have been fighting it. It is too much to expect men who have had to fight for the lives of their organizations against the efforts of some of the most prominent of La Follette's supporters to line up with them now.
"The action of the New Jersey state Federation of Labor in refusing by a roll call vote of nearly three to one to accept the advice of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor is typical and is indicative of the real position of labor. It is as typical as was the action of the International Printing Pressmen and Associants Union Convention in refusing by an almost unanimous vote to follow the lead of the executive council.
"In New Jersey you will note that the Federation laughed a Coolidge resolution out of court before it defeated the La Follette resolution.

PRE-WEDDING PARTY
The home of Miss Jeanne Poirier in Fletcher street was the scene of a pretty gathering last evening when Miss Helen Dragon was honored on the event of her coming marriage.
She was declared for him, we have yet to hear of any desertions, despite the pressure being brought to bear by supporters of the independent candidates and the frantic efforts of T. V.
O'Connor, chairman of the United States shipping board to make it appear that a considerable element in the labor movement is desirous of electing Coolidge and Dawes.

LINE CLEAR NOW FOR RAILWAY BUSES

Chelmsford selectmen have decided to grant a license to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, to operate automobile passenger-carrying buses through the town of Chelmsford. When the corporation through its public trustees, petitioned for the necessary permit some time ago, considerable opposition was manifested in several sections of Chelmsford, and it was felt at that time that the town would never grant the street railway privileges desired.

Licenses have now been secured by the corporation in every city and town through which the new passenger-carrying service will operate, with the exception of the town of Arlington. The officials of that community will act on the matter next Monday evening.

Citizens of East Chelmsford have been endeavoring for a long time to secure an extension of the street railway fare limit to that part of Chelmsford. The railway representatives present at the meeting of the Chelmsford board of selectmen last evening, stated that because of the financial condition of the company and industrial conditions in general, the extension of the fare limit as requested, could not be granted at this time.

Manager Maurice E. McCormick, of the Lowell division of the Eastern lines; Selectmen William L. Belleville, George W. Day and George Digbee, and Fred J. Crowley, member of the board of public trustees of the street railway company, were present at the meeting that finally disposed of the petition for routing the proposed bus line through Chelmsford. If Arlington town officials grant permission for the operation of the new line through that section of the county, buses will be put into operation soon afterward. Full running schedules and other information of interest to patrons of the bus line, will be published soon, Manager McCormick said last evening.

WILL HAVE DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

Lowell Council Bug Scouts is to have a drum and bugle corps. This was decided at the regular meeting of the council held this week. Miss Mary Rottly who has carefully studied the advisability of having a drum corps in the local troop reported favorably and preparations are now under way to form a bugle and drum corps. This phase of scout work has been met with much enthusiasm in other councils and has long been the aim of the local branch.

The officers' association will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock at camp "Wynndleho," Willowdale, where a supper cooked over an open fire will be enjoyed. Following the report, a business meeting will be held. If the weather is stormy a meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock in Middlesex hall.

RADIO PROGRAM BY RUMANIAN SINGER

Radio station WEAF will broadcast next Thursday evening a program of bass selections by Rev. Octavian Mureson, Rumanian singer. The program is a "repeat" feature, Fr. Mureson having sung from this station before. His first business meeting will be held. If the weather is stormy a meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock in Middlesex hall.

WILL ADDRESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy will speak before the members of the Business and Professional Women's club at their regular meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock in Middlesex hall. Mr. Molloy's subject will be of general interest to the members and each member has the privilege to invite a friend, advised A. McCarthy, one of Lowell's favorite singers, will give numerous selections.

Three Democratic Governors

of the democratic party before the presidential campaign of 1928. La Follette is seeking to penetrate the democratic "Solid South" in connection with his plans to get as many democratic votes as possible. The voters of La Follette would menace the very life of the democratic party, in the view of some of its national leaders, and they intend to make the point with increasing emphasis throughout the east.

According to tentative plans the democrats will send Governors Smith of New York, Silver of New Jersey and Ritchie of Maryland, and Senator Underwood of Alabama into New England before the end of the campaign. Each is a good speaker and political campaigner and with views common to most Massachusetts democrats.

Senator La Follette is something of a terror to both the old parties, whose spokesmen are making a particular appeal to eastern conservatives. The democrats say that Davis is out of it and that everybody who stands for the constitution must swing to Coolidge to prevent La Follette from denouncing a possible election of Davis. The democrats argue that the only way to prevent a deadlock is to go to Davis inasmuch as Coolidge is certain to lose to La Follette a number of western states. Both the president and Davis have made it clear they do not agree with La Follette's theories about curbing the power of the United States supreme court. La Follette himself is keeping away from this issue and endeavoring to confine the issues of his campaign to drives against monopoly and special privilege.

There is evidently some concern over the possible effect of this race in the La Follette camp as only recently Senator Wheeler of Montana, the La Follette candidate for vice president explained at New York that a change in the powers of the supreme court could be made only by an amendment to the federal constitution and that this would have to be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states before it could become effective thus allowing the voters, indirectly at least, to pass upon it. Senator Wheeler said that the La Follette forces would cheerfully accept the verdict should it be against them.

Claims of victory are being poured out upon a defenseless public every hour from the various political headquarters; but the plain truth today is that nobody knows just what will be the result in November. The La Follette candidacy has thrown everything into uncertainty and forecasts today are to say the least very unreliable.

TWO EXTRA BEDROOM BUNGALOW

Copyright, 1923—Architects' Small House Service Bureau.

Plan No. 5A59.

A feature of the five room Colonial bungalow illustrated here is the opportunity to provide two extra bedrooms on the second floor, if desired. Dormers can be added to the front, thus furnishing cross ventilation for these bed rooms, or to light the storage space.

The house is of frame construction, with exterior finish of siding and shingle roof, concrete foundations and cement base course. The triple-arch Palladian motif entrance to the porch is unusual.

On the first floor there is a living room, dining room, kitchen, dining alcove, two bedrooms, bath and porch. The number of closets is surprising—yet, there is no waste of essential space.

The house is designed to face south or east, and can be reversed for other facings. A fireplace is a feature of the living room. An arched opening separates dining room from the living quarters.

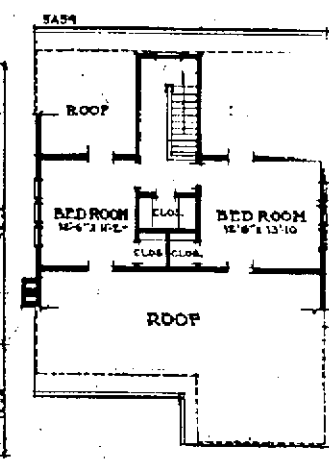

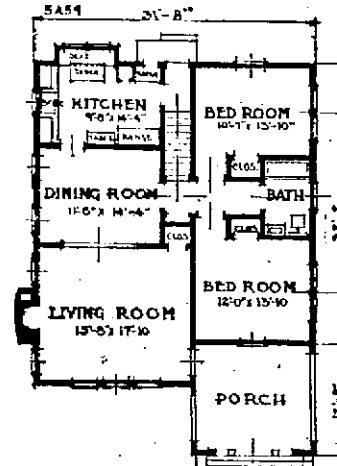

The porch may be easily enclosed, if desired. It has a vaulted plaster ceiling.

The house can be placed on a 40-foot lot in most cities. It can be decreased in width if desired.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate and insurance reports the following sales negotiated during the past week.

On behalf of Dr. Francis R. Mahoney conveyance is effected of a high grade building site situated on the easterly side of Highland Avenue. The lot has an area of 7345 sq. feet with a street frontage of 50 feet. It is level and excellently adapted to purposes of building. The grantee is M. A. Walsh who will erect on the premises a modern residence for personal occupancy. In the Pawtucketville section, a sale has been negotiated of a lot of land situated directly at the junction of Crawford street and Sixth Avenue. The lot has an area of 4500 sq. feet with an excellent street frontage on both streets. This was originally a portion of the so-called Emery estate and is conveyed to Ernest Tanguay and Laura Tanguay. Mr. Tanguay will erect on the premises some modern garages which he will hold for investment purposes.

Finally papers have been passed through this office in the transfer of an excellent parcel of investment property comprising a nine apartment block at 19-21 Baxter street. The apartments have four rooms each. The land involved totals 600 sq. feet. The conveyance is made in behalf of Isadore Hymes. The grantee being Mrs. Emma F. Donnelly. Mrs. Donnelly plans extensive improvements to the property and will continue to hold it as in the past for purposes of investment.

FIRE IN ANN BARNES

Fire in an ash barrel at 239 Perry street resulted in an alarm from Box 819 at 7:48 last evening. The blaze was extinguished quickly and damage was slight.

The establishment of state parks is growing throughout the country.

The losses caused by forest fires in North America are incalculable.

Consult Us Before You Build

A rent receipt is not much of an asset. It is the written permission of the landlord for the occupancy of a few square feet of floor space, for about thirty days,—after that it is valueless.

Why Not Build a Home and Be Your Own Landlord?

The interest on the investment, plus taxes and repairs, certainly would be less than the rent demanded for such a Home as you desire, or the landlord could not afford to invest his money in property to rent. On the other hand, the value of the feeling of ownership of a Home, a safe refuge for yourself and family, and a place to entertain your friends, cannot be estimated.

FLIERS PLAN NEXT HOP

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 19.—The flight to Dallas will be undertaken as soon as weather reports indicate favorable conditions. Pilot, Lowell Smith, commander of the around-the-world fliers, stated today, it will not be expected for today unless adverse weather prevails until late in the afternoon, he added.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Police today broadcast a general alarm for George R. Christian, whose alleged defection from the federal government was the subject of a hearing yesterday before President Coolidge today. Later in the day Secretary Wilbur was expected to arrive here from California at the call of the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A meeting with his cabinet, the regular semi-weekly session, constituted the principal business before President Coolidge today. Later in the day Secretary Wilbur was expected to arrive here from California at the call of the President.

PAWTUCKETVILLE SOCIAL CLUB. A well attended meeting of the Pawtucketville Social club was held last night. A committee, consisting of Councillor Arthur Ernest, Louis P. French, and G. Deane, were named to attend a conference of all the French-American organizations in the city on Sunday, Sept. 26. President Alphonse Porlier was in the chair, and introduced Timothy Roy, president of the Club Permanent de Naturalization, who spoke on topics of general interest. It was announced that registration classes for Ward 6 voters will be held on Oct. 6 at the C. M. A. C. and on Oct. 7 at the Pawtucket school.

SOUTHERN MILLMAN DEAD. HOSPITAL, Sept. 19.—Oscar Blinn of Atlanta, Ga., one of the leading figures in the textile industry in the South, died today at a hospital here. He was president of the Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills, Atlanta.

IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Vacations are over and the crowd has returned to New York.

The day after Labor Day the influx became evident. It has increased each day until New York is her bustling, crowded self again, pushing and jamming for each inch of available space.

Broadway, deserted during the summer, is spick and span with the fall showing of new plays.

Cooler weather has arrived for a protracted visit and the new styles of the season are being displayed in the evening parade.

Over in Fifth avenue, top coats, suits and gloves are seen on the men in the afternoon march and the women are sauntering along exhibiting the latest in tailored suits.

Fall is the most pleasant season in New York. The abundance of a towering summer are thrown off and everything is made ready for the gay winter season, when New York is in its most entertaining mood. Plays are new, audiences are fresh, dancing parlors re-open with new decorations and lavish appointments.

Patrolman James O'Donnell failed to rescue a boy from drowning three months ago, and nearly lost his own life in the vain attempt, because he could not swim.

Yesterday a fellow officer tried to restrain him when he dived into the river in answer to a call for help, but he dived anyway and saved a drowning woman.

"Don't be so amazed," he chided fellow officers on the river bank, after he had made the rescue. "I've been taking swimming lessons."

All the straw hats haven't been placed in moth balls, despite the fashion decree that they be given a rest until next year.

And mischievous boys who like to break the hats of brave men who wear their grass tops after the dead line date will be more careful in the future.

For John Smith, 19, spent 4 days in jail for breaking a non-fleethable kelly.

Today I know how it must feel to be a great author. I penned a sarcastic story which paid $1 a word. It was a 50 word missive to a man who has owed me $50 for more than a year. It brought results.
